FLAMBEAU

To Honour

Mr. Frank Meisnest,

Whose unfailing sense of humor and friendliness toward all have become traditions of Lincoln High —

Whose classes in citizenship have proved both beneficial and delightful —

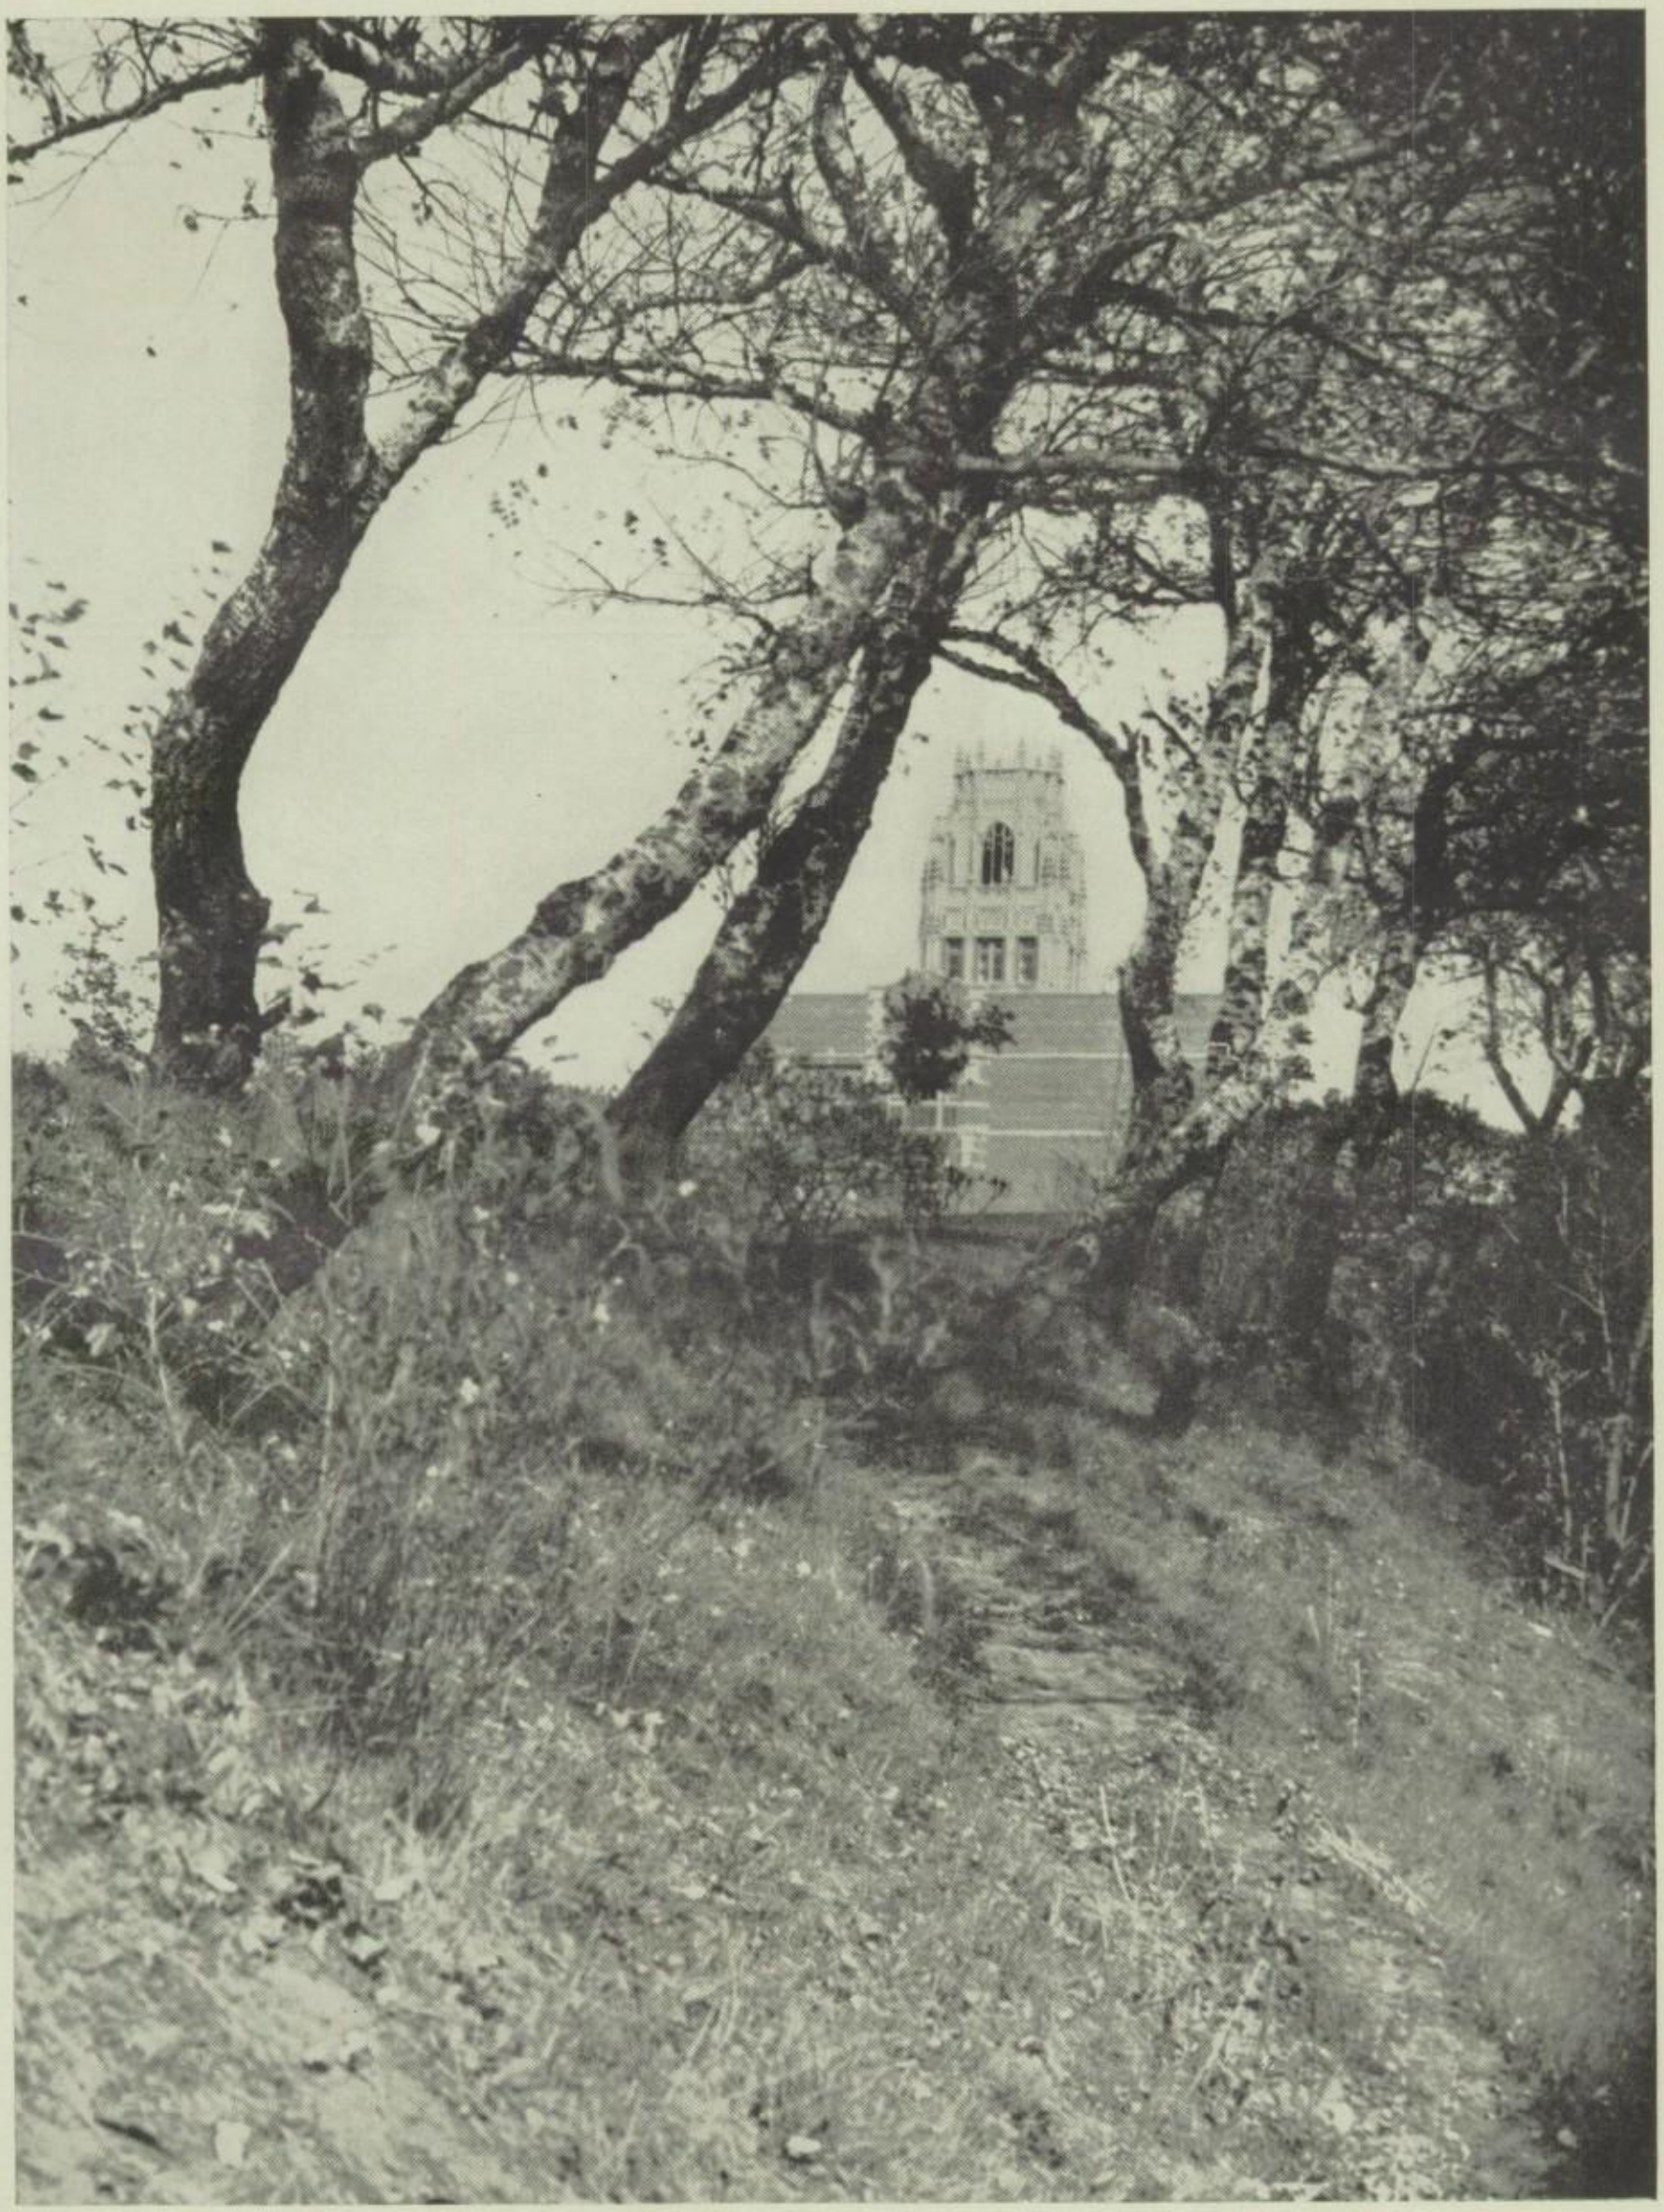
Who holds the respect of those who have had opportunity to know him as a man and as a teacher.

Foreword

The building of a yearbook—the portrayal of a year of school life, should be based upon the ever-present, dominant thought of all mankind—progress. International relations have progressed rapidly; likewise each of us has experienced a development during our high school days.

In this Flambeau we have attempted to give Lincoln students something new in yearbook construction and lay-out —a more modern scheme of beauty and simplicity.

We offer a record of progress, a reminder of never-to-be forgotten days, and a panoramic view of life at Lincoln High School. If, in the future, when schooldays have become merely memories, any of the significance of our carefree youth can be recalled, and we can live again the many activities which we have all enjoyed, then we shall have accomplished our purpose in publishing this book.



As the years pass by, these pathways
Will bloom in all the glory of bygone days,
And sweet will be our memories.

Out of the cloud-folds of her garments shaken,
Silent, and soft, and slow
Descends the snow.

In full-orbed glory yonder moon divine
Rolls through the dark blue depths.

Progress

When monks translated books by night
In cells illumined by candlelight,
And by the misty light of stars
That was not stopped by window bars,
They little guessed in years to come
That in the air would sound the hum
Of army squadrons flying high,
In "V" formation in the sky;
And that across astonished fields
That had not known the grind of wheels
Hard gleaming pathways now are flung
In meadows where once birds had sung.
And yet despite the mighty change,
The fast increasing scientist's range
Of new ideas, row on row,
We modern people still will go
For knowledge to the very pages
Consulted down throughout the ages,
And still we base our education
On the ancient information.

In Memoriam

Mr. Joseph Burke

On September twenty-eighth, Lincoln students lost not only a teacher but a friend, a person who, by his encouragement and help, made school a pleasanter and a happier place.

Mr. Burke has left his imprint upon us, not only because of his rare sense of humor and kind disposition in class but also because of his personal and kindly interest in all student activities.

As an American history teacher in Lincoln High School for the past ten years, Mr. Burke's untiring service was one of the outstanding factors in the upbuilding of student education. It was largely through his efforts while advisor, that the History Club arranged the scholarship which is presented each year to the most deserving student.

Because we realize the unselfish devotion with which he served; because we remember his high ideals, his sincerity, unquenchable enthusiasm, and kindly wisdom, we wish to pay this last tribute to him

Ione Riederer, who would have been a member of this year's graduating class, passed away on June 9, 1933, just at the time when her life's outlook was most promising.

Although with us only two years, she was keenly interested in extra-curricular activities. Her service as secretary of our class for two years stands out eminently in our memory of her. Ione also served as vice president of the Home Economics Club in her freshman year, and as a sophomore, was an active and interested member of the Biology Club.

She was blessed with a kind disposition and great ambition, having one of the highest scholastic averages in our class. A striking combination of faithfulness and gentleness, Ione possessed high ideals and upright principles. To us, her passing meant the loss of a dear friend and schoolmate.

DEPARTMENT OF GUIDANCE

Greetings and congratulations to the class of nineteen hundred and thirty-four. Special greetings to the girls of thirty-four to whom "A Century of Progress" has opened fields of opportunity which were unheard of to your sisters of a century back. What progress has contributed to science, education,government, and industry it is now your privilege to enjoy equally with men. These advantages are not given to you without their bringing with them added obligation. Because much is given you, much will be expected of you in return. The place which woman has held in the past will be insignificant when compared with that which she can hold in the future, if you are but conscious of the power which you hold.

You are to be congratulated upon having availed yourselves of the education so generously made possible for you by your parents and your community. Your appreciation can best be shown by the success which you make of your futures. The best wishes of the faculty are with you in your plans.

May B. Clark
Dean of Girls.

Among the most important developments in the field of education, within the past decade, is the growing realization that guidance is an indispensable function of the modern school. Guidance work, itself, was never experimental. However, up until about a decade ago the work along this line was of an unorganized nature.

Guidance is a process which concerns everything which an individual does. It is guidance whether it deals with vocations, choice of course, curriculum, school, civic, moral, leisure time,avocational, cultural, social, or leadership qualities of the individual.

Guidance is any help that is given to an individual that will enable him to make an intelligent choice at the time of a crisis in his life. Life's roads have many forks in them.. Guidance is not telling an individual that he "must" take a certain road. It is telling an individual that under present circumstances he is "better fitted" to travel on one road than on the other.

"Knowledge is not power until it is applied; before the application is made it is only potentiality. Facts, principles, and theories are useless unless applied to situations to which they are relevant." The wrong road will give you low-performance. If you are willing to pay heed, a word of advice, self-analysis, and constructive criticism will help you choose the right road. Will you be satisfied with low-performance when a word of advice can raise it?

F. R. Zeran
Guidance Director.

CLASSES

SENIORS

When one looks back to 1930 to that group of freshmen who entered school then, it seems almost unbelievable that they are the same students who are now about to graduate. Their four years have been complete in all respects, for they have easily made themselves an integral part of the life at Lincoln.

In that first year, as in those that followed, the class contributed its part to social activities by sponsoring a school dance. Many began to take an early interest in athletics. That year a freshman football team was organized, giving the young athletes opportunity to display their ability.

In its second year, the class made a favorable showing in athletics, forensics, and intramural sports. As sophomores they boasted of one regular on both the football and basketball teams. Two served on the Hi-Tower Flashes–Manitou staff, and one received a letter in swimming.

Their junior year was a most active one. Seven boys received letters in football, and three received awards in swimming. That year the basketball team won the Fox River Valley title, and their success was due in part to junior members, three of whom received "M's". Tennis, track, forensics, and declamatory attracted a large number. As their first dramatic production, the juniors presented "Jonesy," a three-act comedy, the proceeds of which were used to finance the Junior Promenade. Twenty juniors were members of the senior band, nine served on the staff of the "Hi-Tower Flashes", and four were chosen as members of the National Honor Society.

One of the most important events of this last year was their presentation of the three-act comedy, "Broken Dishes," on February 2. During this year, the class headed the honor roll for every quarter of the school year. Fourteen were elected to the National Honor Society, and eight were admitted to Quill and Scroll.

With a record number of 311 graduates, this class will set a new precedent by holding its commencement exercises in the bowl, June 13—a fitting culmination to four active years in high school.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Three hundred and eleven students, the largest class ever to graduate from Lincoln High, have completed the last lap of their four year journey. In looking over the students we find many who have won honor and recognition in extra curricular activities.

Many boys were interested in the various sports throughout their four years. Edward Ulovitz, Emil Beers, Frank Bonk, Alex Derus, Tim Egan, Victor Fidler, Oscar Johnsrud, Robert Madson, Cyril Miller, Lester Mittnacht, Ray Nichols, Robert Randolph, Bill Schuette, Robert Stiefvater, Bernard Jansen, and Harold Kirkevold were the football players of the class.

Those out for basketball were Alex Derus, Tim Egan, Oscar Johnsrud, Lester Mittnacht, Ray Nichols, Everett Pope, Bill Schuette, Bob Stiefvater, Edward Ulovitz and Harlan Wehrwein.

Bob Borcherdt, Dave Walling, Raymond Zimmer, Douglas Bannerman, Phil Miles, Bob Gloe, Gerald Ferguson, and Bill Schuette brought honor to the class in tennis.

Those who did outstanding work in swimming were Bob Randolph, Kenneth Notz, Thomas Braasch, Emil Beers, Dave Walling, Bernard Jansen, Bob Fargo, and Cyril Miller.

The boys winning recognition in track and cross country were Frank Bonk, Tim Egan, Harlan Wehrwein, Anthony Gospodarek, Earl White, Cyril Miller, James Schneider, Thomas Braasch, Robert Koch, Sylvester Barbeau, Clifford Trottier, William Crowe, and Ernest Barger.

There were also a large number of musicians. Ernest Barger, Bob Borcherdt, Ellis Clayton, Donald Dill, Inez Dorsch, Richard Engel, Margaret Fishbeck, Eugene Gerbinsky, Paul Koritzinsky, Elwood Krueger, Norman Kubsch, Norbert Kustka, Harold Lindemann, Ruth Maresh, Elroy Nass, Earl Peronto, James Schneider, Charles Sindelar, Jack Stock, Elroy Stueck, Harlan Wehrwein, Doris Wellhoefer, MacDonald Wood, and Charles Youngchild were senior members of the band.

In the cast of "Broken Dishes," the class play, we find Jean Arnold, Dean Boettcher, Gerald Ferguson, Bernard Jansen, Jerome Ledvina, Harold Lindemann, Dorothea Meyer Charlotte Randolph, Violet Sobieski, and Leonard Woytal, with Evelyn Saduske and Richard Engel acting as understudies.

Members interested in forensics were: Kathryn Barnstein, Ursula Baugniet, Charles Brady, Bernice Egan, Gerald Ferguson, Jermaine Grun, Paul Koritzinsky, Jerome Ledvina, Roy Newlin, Kathryn Norris, Bill Ohde, Charlotte Randolph, Bob Stiefvater, Anna Suchomel, John Zimdar, and Rhoda Ann Ziesler.

Journalism was the hobby of many, among whom were: Grace Loeffler, Anita Hansen, Bernard Jansen, Bill Ohde, Phil Miles, Marion Zeman, Mary Reddin, Priscilla Moore, Helen Ward, Victor Nielsen, Geraldine Higgins, Jane Specht, Lila Dufek, Charles Brady, Charles Krumm, Margery Kuplic, and Catherine Heffernan.

Dorothy King, Charlotte Randolph, Gordon Johnson, George Dick, Florence Bleichwehl, Pearl Neuser, Elton Baruth, Gerald Ferguson, Alice Menge, Violet Sobieski, June Healy, Joan Junek, Douglas Bannerman, Alice Niemann, Marion Randolph, Ann Suchomel, John Zimdar, Rhoda Ann Ziesler, Bernice Egan, Mark Soden, Mary Jane Phipps, Lillian Bruechert, Lucille Svoboda, Clifford McCabe, Jermaine Grun, Harold Lindemann, Ursula Baugniet, and Mary Jane Hamilton were responsible for this Flambeau.

By participating in outside activities, these seniors have made their presence keenly felt at Lincoln, and they will be missed when school begins next fall.

JUNIOR CLASS

With three successful years behind them, the juniors can now look forward to one more happy year in Lincoln High, before launching their ship on the sea of life. This class has a splendid record for the past year, not only in scholastic achievement but in varied extra-curricular activities.

One of the first social undertakings was the sponsoring of an all school dance given under the advisorship of Mr. Edwin Erickson and Miss Margery Stangel.

There were many representatives of their group among the football candidates. Some gained special recognition by being selected as "regulars." Among these were Harry Wilda, Willott Pitz, Robert McCambridge, Marvin Korleski, Rex John, Leonard Swiger, and Arthur Mrotek.

At the close of the football season, many of these athletes turned out for basketball. Among those successful in receiving letters were "Bubby" Pitz and Rex John Jr., the co-captains of the 1934-35 season, and Bob McCambridge, star forward. Others showing great promise for next year were Billy Muth, Ned Murphy, and Bob Hamacheck.

Edwin Hansen, Henry Kinzel, and Bob Storms attained the distinction of receiving letters for swimming.

Among the junior tennis enthusiasts were two former letter men, Billy Muth and Louis Cummings, but the latter was unable to play this season because of an injury. Bob Hamacheck is also deserving of mention.

Many from this class displayed prowess in track, among whom were: Herbert Steckmesser, Ned Murphy, Rudd McFarlane, and Bob McCambridge.

Shirley Axel and Madaline Trastek were the two juniors to represent the school in declamatory; George Simon in oratory.

The junior class play selected for presentation this year on May 11 was "You're Telling Me", a three act comedy written by Wilbur Braun. This year, a new system was inaugurated whereby two casts rehearsed and the best was selected for the final performance. Those chosen were: Louise Bovard, Grace Jens, Shirley Axel, Bob Hrudka, George Simon, Charlotte Nelles, Ruth Valleskey, Madaline Trastek, Reinhardt Dwyer, and Paul Mueller.

The proceeds of this production were used for the Junior Promenade, which took place June 8. Elmer Queram and his queen, Deloris Schoblaska, led the grand march.

The following third-year students were members of the Senior Band: Lester Teply, Constance Weber, Lincoln Kliment, Ernest Krajnik, Dale Panosh, William Daeke, John Engel, Emmett Klessig, Edward Sladky, Robert Shuber, Elton Jelinek, Paul Schmitz, Edward Hudon, Norbert Derus, David Novak, Joe Cigler, Otto Stokes, and John Svacina.

Future journalists can be glimpsed among those junior students who served on the publication staff. Those on the school paper, the "Hi-Tower Flashes" were: Louise Bovard, Pauline Fechter, Norman Hanunian, Maurice Leindecker, Leonard Swiger, Millard Eber, Madaline Trastek, Charlotte Meany, Ann Borcherdt, Shirley Axel, Charlotte Nelles, Jack Holsen, Jane Urbanek, Amy Topic, Elsie Eisner, Charles Sutter, and Arnulf Aarhus.

The four juniors elected to National Honor Society were: Pauline Fechter, Rex John, Elmer Queram, and Louise Bovard.

With such a record behind them, the class of 1935 has unlimited possibilities for a most promising senior year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The freshman class of last year has completed its probation period and has at last become a real section of Lincoln High School, taking an active part in all school activities.

With 162 boys and 203 girls, the sophomore class boasts a total of 365 members. About one half of these are from Woodrow Wilson, as is their president, Russell Hamachek.

As their main social event of the year, they sponsored a school dance, on February 16.

Among their group were many whose names appeared on the school honor roll: Evangeline Behnke, Olive Bursek, Grace Engelbrecht, Virginia Jance, Melvin Jung, Beatrice Kelley, Ruth Koeninger, Dorothy Laufenburg, Jean Loeffler, Arlene Lorfeldt, Irene Lynch, Jack McCormick, Beryl Robichaud, Richard Schmitz, Marcella Schneider, William Schnorr, Blanche Sindelar, Marguerite Staalson, Kathleen Van Groll, Virginia Van Patten, and Thomas Wyseman.

This class was well represented in the 1933 homecoming parade, where they won first place with their float representing a husky Manitowoc football player holding crushed Two Rivers in his hand.

Robert Sinclair, Daniel Langenkamp, Paul Schroeder, Elroy Pick, Winford Miller, Thomas Wyseman, Henry Burger, Wilbur Haase, Albert Le Clair, Bob Harrington, Lawrence Jansky, Russell Cogswell, Erwin Derus, and Connie McCambridge were the sophs on the second football team.

Those who made the second basketball team were: Joseph Tadych, Erwin Derus, Lawrence Jansky, Wilbur Haase, Milton Hackbarth, Connie McCambridge, Albert Le Clair, and Robert Harrington.

Daniel Mittnacht, Jerry Brennan, Tom Albano, Harold Barlow, Roy Becker, Jack McCormick, and Grover Becker were the outstanding sophomores in swimming, while Raymond Luebke, was the only one from the class to receive a letter in cross country.

First band members include: Berle Hrabik, Howard Grimmer, Russell Novak, Charles Witt, Russell Meyer, Richard Schmitz, Albina and Evelyn Pech.

Howard Grimmer and Berle Hrabik were also members of the school orchestra.

The sophomore girls who participated in the declamatory contest were, Janis Potratz, Jean Loeffler, Kathleen Stangel, Anna Brenner, Eleanore Wiese, Gertrude Virgiels, and Ruth McCarthy. Beatrice Wigen was attracted by debate.

Sophomore girls who participated in the horseshoe tournament were: Hildegarde Fricke, Elaine Hendricks, Rosabelle Maresh, Myrtle Blazek, Deloris Robinson, Ruth Meyer, Beryl Robichaud, Marie Buretta, Georgia Blaesser, Jean Keery, Gaynell Champagne, and Jean Kolbeck.

Girl tennis enthusiasts included: Hildegarde Fricke, Bernice Bishop, Dorothy Harvey, Bernice Boehm, Marie Buretta, Beryl Robichaud, Beatrice Kelley, Georgia Blaesser, Rita Willott, Marguerite Staalson, Ruth Kuecker, Dorothy Delsman, Ellen Crowe, Mary Barger, and Dorothy Kutil.

The sophomores are enthusiastically looking forward to their junior year in which the junior class play and prom will be added to their list of activities.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Two hundred thirty-one rather intimidated freshmen entered Lincoln High School on September 5, 1933. Before the majority of them, this first venture had loomed up as a painful and difficult ordeal, but by the time the "greenness" wore away, they had acquired a certain veneration for their school and settled down to their work with a determination to succeed.

The second week of school, nineteen freshmen were transferred from Woodrow Wilson Junior High School in order that they might take some sophomore subjects. Because of their excellent work in arithmetic, they had been allowed to take algebra in the eighth grade. In most cases, these freshmen took geometry with sophomores and upper classmen and made a very creditable showing in the classes.

The freshmen this year were exceptionally active in the various fields of sports and extra-curricular work. Among their declamatory speakers was Charlotte Ann Richberg, who, by placing in the finals here, won the right to represent the Lincoln High School at the National Forensic League Contest held at Ripon in March. She presented "Antonio Opens His Eyes" as her selection. Other freshmen taking part in declamatory were Jacqueline Houston, Mildred Koritzinsky, Louise McKeough, and Marcella Yindra.

Freshmen were well represented in the Senior Band by Elroy Brick, Roger Pentzien, Adelaide Kellner, and Robert Westphal. The orchestra attracting even a larger number, included Edwin Boettger, Victor Korlesky, Virginia Kraemer, Alvin Miller, Paul Schaeffer, and Delwyn Schubert.

About one-half of the freshman boys participated in intramural sports. A few succeeded in ranking as highly as the upper classmen. In swimming, very promising future swimmers are Frederick Gloe, Leonard McKenna, and Chester Steckmesser. Chester Steckmesser, Leonard McKenna, Richard Quistorf, and Joseph Schulz were out for track.

The class of 1937 is outstanding not only in athletics and extra-curricular work but also in general scholastic record. Twelve members of the class succeeded in rating high enough so that they are on this year's school honor roll. They are June Hahn, Leona Hallwachs, Cleopha Healy, Mary Jane Heise, Jacqueline Houston, Mildred Koritzinsky, Jack Massopust, Lucille McKeough, Leonard Nass, Charlotte Ann Richberg, Dorothy Staeffler, and Marion Steel.

On April 20 the freshmen sponsored an all-school dance. This was the only social feature in which they had a prominent part.

Freshman girls who participated in the tennis tournament were: Lucille McKeough, Mildred Koritzinsky, Jeanette Herman, Cleopha Healy, and Loretta Crowe.

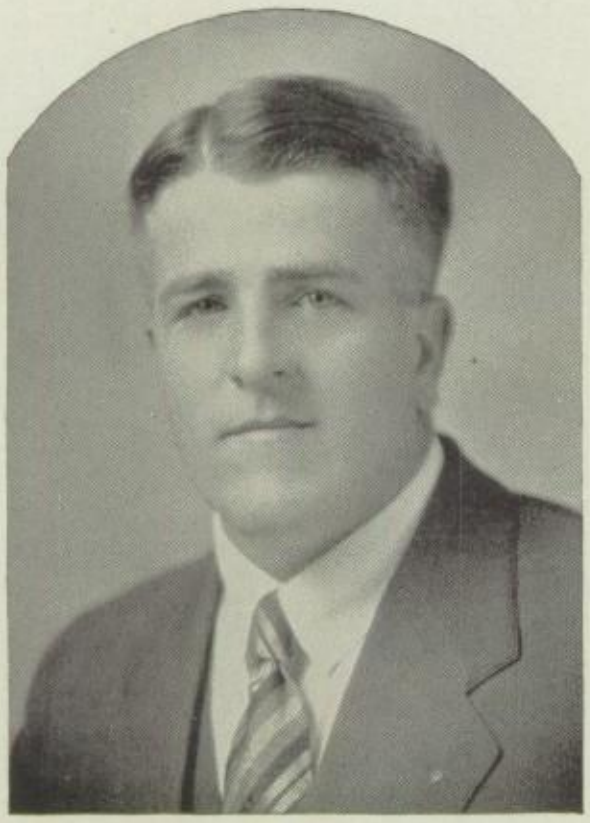
ACTIVITIES



MR. REX K. JOHN

One of the most important developments in education in the last decade has been the attention which school authorities have given to a group of activities commonly spoken of as "extra-curricular." The school which fails to offer such opportunities to its student-body is not discharging in full its obligation to the public, and may rightly be censured for its failure to do so.

The students of Lincoln High are indeed fortunate in that an attractive program of extra-curricular work is provided for them from which they may choose those activities of greatest appeal.

Included in the extra-curricular program are the club organizations, affording students the opportunity of meeting with their school-mates in groups for the purpose of following up some special line of activity or of working on some project in which they are interested.

In arranging the program of club work it was felt that to insure its success it would be necessary to pay attention to two factors, student interest and student participation. Only those clubs have been organized for which there was sufficient student demand. No effort was made to force a preconceived program of club projects upon the students; rather, the program was formulated from the preferences expressed by the students themselves. The clubs that were organized were in direct response to the request for them as signified by the students themselves.

The success of any organization depends very largely upon the extent to which each member actively participates in the affairs of the group. This fact has been emphasized throughout the year's work, and to further insure the student participation, the membership of every club was limited. When every member of each club is willing to participate actively in the work of his organization and realizes that the success of the group depends upon every member, then he will be deriving the value from club work to which he is entitled. And when every club is composed of such members, then will the club program be functioning as it should and be in a position to render some considerable contribution to the life of the school.

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest marks of distinction that any student can achieve. The qualities which determine membership to the society are high scholarship, character, service, and leadership.

About ten years ago the Department of Secondary-School Principals organized the National Honor Society with the purpose of stimulating scholarship in the secondary schools of the United States. Today there are over twelve hundred chapters and these are in the best high schools in the country.

Fifteen per cent of the upper third of the seniors and five per cent of the juniors are eligible. This year, contrary to the former custom of naming a committee of five or six teachers to elect the members, they were chosen by the entire teaching staff of Lincoln High School.

The seniors who were chosen in their junior year are: Grace Loeffler, Bill Schuette, Robert Stiefvater, and Lillian Bruechert. Those seniors who have gained membership this year include Douglas Bannerman, Ursula Baugniet, Robert Borcherdt, Florence Drobka, Joan Junek, Dorothy King, Hubert Konopacki, Charles Krumm, Ruby Kuecker, Jerome Ledvina, Alice Menge, Philip Miles, Bill Ohde, and Charlotte Randolph. The juniors are Louise Bovard, Pauline Fechter, Rex John, and Elmer Queram.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Founded at Iowa University in 1926
Lincoln High School Charter
Granted January 7, 1929

The highest attainable honor which can be awarded to members of the publication staffs, is election to Quill and Scroll, International Honor Society for high-school journalists. To become a member a candidate must be a junior, senior, or post graduate, rating in the upper third of his class for the current year, and must have done outstanding work on one of the school publication staffs. The report of the candidate's qualifications and character, with a sample of his work, are sent to the national secretary, and must meet with his approval.

Fourteen students, Louise Bovard, Charles Krumm, Arnulf Aarhus, Pauline Fechter, Madaline Trastek, Gordon Johnson, Dorothy King, Alice Menge, Margery Kuplic, Rex John, Charles Brady, Helen Ward, Charlotte Randolph, and Millard Eber were initiated into the Quill and Scroll at the publication banquet, held at the Catholic Center on April 16. The features of the banquet were the presentation of the pins to the new members, and a talk by Mr. Mark Byers, editor of the Two Rivers Reporter.

Anita Hansen, Bernard Jansen, Grace Loeffler, David Walling, and Bill Ohde were elected to the society last year.

Chemistry—a great science which has accomplished wonders toward enlightening the world and opening new paths for the never-ending advancement of civilization.

Most students enroll in chemistry a bit timidly and with but a vague conception of what they are to study. However, this feeling is soon lost in the excitement of the experiments performed and in learning how to apply this knowledge in solving many small everyday problems. The young chemists who had formerly stood in awe of chemistry find themselves using intricate scientific terms and understanding them.

Through the cooperation of the program committee and the club officers, the members were able to hear many chemists of Manitowoc, and had the opportunity of seeing some of the industrial plants in operation.

So that the practical side of chemistry could be viewed, trips were made through the White House Condensary, where the members were guided by competent chemists, and through the laboratory of J. P. McKeough where a test on gasoline and oil was run and the procedure explained to the students.

The name, Hi-Y, is derived from Y. M. C. A. of which it is a junior branch. There are members and branches of this organization scattered throughout high schools of the United States.

The Club was organized primarily to promote good sportsmanship and a high standard of scholarship. Every member is required to live up to its standards of clean living, clean speech, clean sportsmanship, and clean scholarship.

Our branch of the Hi-Y is one of the most active clubs in school. Each year it sponsors a bonfire at an outdoor pep-meeting before an important football game. This year the bonfire was held the night before our homecoming game with Two Rivers.

Each year ten juniors and five seniors are voted into the club by the ten members retained from the year before. Membership is limited to twenty-five. New members are put through the impressive rites of a formal initiation which is followed by an informal ceremony.

This year, the club was addressed by several of the leading citizens of the community who stressed particularly good citizenship and clean living.

The purpose of our newly-organized Senior Pep Club is to promote good sportsmanship at all games, to encourage our teams, and to improve further interest in school athletics.

The club, which has seen its first year under the sponsorship of Miss Virginia Haight, has lived up to its name. From the large number of applicants, a group of thirty-five members was selected.

Throughout the school year the club arranged a number of pep meetings and introduced new ideas concerning them. It sponsored a school contest for new yells or songs, to which many students contributed. The song entitled "Heads Up", written by Lillian Bruechert and Ruby Kuecker, was awarded the first prize of a season basketball ticket.

On November 17 it held the first all-school dance to be given by an individual club. A group of girls dressed in football uniforms, each one representing a member of the high school team, provided the entertainment. The dance was well attended, the returns being used for the purchase of uniforms for the cheerleaders, a new megaphone, and the materials for slides which were used for songs in the auditorium.

In the fall, when the club system was being organized, it was found necessary to create two Pep Clubs because of the large number who wished to belong to an organization of this kind. For that reason both the junior and senior groups were started.

Composed wholly of freshmen and sophomores, the Junior Pep Club has been a very active one. By giving loyal support, it has succeeded in raising enthusiasm for athletic contests as well as other school activities.

About twenty-five members put on one of the most interesting pep meetings of the year—a two act comic pantomime called "On to the Game." Besides this, they aided the Senior Pep Club in sponsoring an all-school dance.

After the basketball season, this club was host to the entire freshman and sophomore class, entertaining them with flashes of comic, classical, and popular songs which the group sang and enjoyed.

Through their aid, new uniforms were purchased for the cheer-leaders and new yells submitted. It has proved itself to be an active organization and with a membership of enthusiastic students, can become an integral part of the life at Lincoln High.

GIRLS' TENNIS CLUB

OFFICERS

Advisor—Miss Martha Webb

Our Tennis Club was newly organized this year with the idea of promoting and teaching the science of tennis playing. The prodigious stride which the game has taken and the interest of our members should prove to make our club a success.

The monthly meetings are not limited only to a study of the game, but our club attempts to create an interest in all sports. Tennis affords the combined advantage of being an interesting and a healthful sport, not too strenuous but nevertheless requiring no mean skill on the part of the players. It is one of the few sports popular with women as well as men.

Although the girls were unable to play tennis during the winter months, they enjoyed other sports during their club periods. Some time was spent in playing basket ball, and learning the fundamentals of the game. Dips in the pool, and ice skating on the rink also proved entertaining. In the spring, the members improved their style and strengthened the weaker points of their tennis.

This year the club sponsored an intramural tournament in doubles and singles. This was open not only to members of the club, but also to any high school girl wishing to participate. The success of the tournament may be judged by the large number of girls turning out—sixty one contestants for the singles, and thirty eight for the doubles.

Miss Martha Webb, girls' physical education director, was the club's advisor.

The object of our club is to foster an interest in athletics, and to create a sincere bond of friendship among its members. In like manner, the club tries to fulfill Jesse F. William's definition of Physical Education, "To afford an opportunity for the individual to act in situations that are physically wholesome, mentally stimulating, and socially sound."

The number of girls interested in joining the G. A. C. amounted to one-hundred and thirty-seven. Due to the fact that the membership of our club is restricted to a certain number only, the fifty girls attaining the highest number of points were admitted into the organization.

The point system, which stimulates competition, is the policy adopted whereby a girl may receive a school award in athletics. The credit given for each activity follows:

Hiking (5 miles) 1 point.

Keeping Health Chart (1 month) 5 points.

Skating, bicycle riding, table tennis, tennis, skiing, baseball, etc. (5 hours) 1 point.

Officers of G. A. C. 5 points.

Tournaments (for entering and playing one round) 1 point, (for each additional round) 1 point.

Two social functions were given by the club—a Christmas party and a "get-together party" in which half of the girls dressed as boys and escorted their "girl friends."

The Etiquette Club, newly organized this fall, has completed an interesting and worthwhile year.

Its purpose is to encourage the girls to further and develop interest in etiquette. Because of the large group of students interested in the club, the organization was divided into three groups, the Senior Club, the Junior Club, and the Sophomore-Freshman Club.

Although the organization is divided, the groups have similar programs, accomplishing the same work, and occasionally meeting as a joint group.

Several of the topics discussed at meetings, and the program committees follow: "College Clothes" was discussed by Mrs. Murphy, representing Miss Brown's Business College, Miss Marjory Young, representing the Oshkosh Teachers' College, and Miss Josephine Pitz, representing the University of Wisconsin.

"Table Etiquette" was discussed by the members of the individual clubs, and was headed by the following committees from each group:—Senior Club—Mary Rugowski, chairman; Elnore Bruechert, Rita Hammer, and Evelyn Michels. Junior Club — Kathryn Gretz, chairman; Jane Koepsel and Eleanor Halvorsen. Sophomore–Freshman Club—Jessie Crane, chairman; Violet Luckow, Erna Ludwig and Loretta Neuser.

At a joint meeting, Mr. Bonar addressed the groups on "Professional Etiquette." The Informal Tea sponsored by the three groups was in charge of Iola Colyar, chairman; Lucille Sickinger, June Stephani, Alice Denor, Lila Adelmann, Esther Rozinsky, Hermine Sachse, June Healy, Pauline Gretz, and Marion Frieder.

Virginia Kelley had charge of the Question Box, which was at the disposal of the members for general questions on all phases of etiquette.

"Suitable gifts for all Occasions," and "Etiquette of Travel" were among the topics studied at meetings.

It is felt that a club of this nature is not only a service to its members but that in time it may become an instrument through which proper social attitude may be established.

Le Cercle Francais is one of our many educational and entertaining organizations. It has been in existence for several years and was reorganized this year by popular request of the French students.

The club was established for the purpose of allowing our French students the opportunity of conversing socially outside of the classroom, and to attempt to become better acquainted with the country of France, its people, and its culture.

The motto of Le Cercle Francais is "s'instruire en s'amusant", which in English means "learn while having a good time." The club programs are so arranged as to attempt to do that for the members. There are many good laughs over the little French plays given, the old provincial songs sung, and the games played. At the same time the students have acquired a bit more skill in using the French language. Each member was given a chance to participate in the programs for the meetings, which were held once a month.

French papers and books were read, and reviews of French operas and plays given. The club sang French songs and translated several of our own popular pieces into that language. Members especially enjoyed playing French games.

Anyone desiring to become a member of the German Club must be a German student or have some knowledge of the language. The purpose of the organization is to provide interested students with opportunity for a more detailed study of the literature, music, science, home life, and forms of recreation of our foreign friends.

The club planned an alternation of lectures with programs arranged by the members themselves. At one meeting Mr. Rufin Boyd gave a very enlightening talk on "Music in Relation to Germany", which he illustrated with records from the German composers.

In describing the German language Mark Twain said: "The German dives into the middle of his sentence, and comes up on the other side with a verb in his mouth," a statement illustrating one fundamental difference between the German language and our own. And it is these differences which we hope to master, as the educational values obtained from the study of a foreign language are important to many professions. For those who travel, the knowledge of a foreign language is essential. Since the commerce of the United States has spread to practically all foreign ports, there is a constant demand for persons with a reading and speaking knowledge of other tongues. It is with this in mind that we set as our purpose the understanding and appreciation of the German language.

This year the entire system of clubs was reorganized. The teachers took no part in this reorganization. It was up to the students entirely.

As a result, all of our members are students who are genuinely interested in furthering their knowledge of Rome and Roman things. Much of this "background" material is supplied by illustrated lectures, the slides coming from the University of Wisconsin. During the past year, these lectures have dealt with the founding of Rome, Rome as a world center, Roman remains outside of Italy, and Roman and Greek mythology. The members of the club also gave talks and readings on subjects connected with the Roman world.

The club makes a special point of putting on interesting programs and we feel that we do give members something really worth while.

The Library Board is one of the oldest and most successful clubs. Its purpose is to teach interested students about books, authors, and the library in general. This is done in a way both entertaining and educational. Although no actual library work is undertaken, the members become acquainted with the fundamentals of the library.

At each meeting, a program, appropriate to the month, was presented. At Christmas, gifts were exchanged, and in spring, Mayday festivities were held under the guidance of the May Queen.

It is customary for the Library Board to present a gift to the high-school library each year. Other years the gift consisted of a book or books, but this year it was a globe which has proved useful to all students.

The present advisor is Miss Edith Zander who took the place of Miss Edith Ruddock when she resigned in January.

The "Clio" Club takes its name from the daughter of Jupiter, who has long been associated with the historical field. The name "Clio" is a Greek word meaning praise and was given to one of the nine Muses who helped the god, Apollo.

Clio was the daughter of Jupiter and a nymph named Memory. Her special field was history, keeping alive in the minds of men the fame of those who had died. She, with the other eight Muses about whom we read in Greek and Roman mythology, were looked upon as the patron goddesses of music and song, of poetry, and of those fine arts that tend to promote the civilization of mankind. The particular symbol of Clio was the scroll.

CLIO CLUB

The motto of the club is the single word, Veritas, meaning truth. All historians seek to find the truth from the maze of exaggeration presented to them in a study of the past.

Because of the large group of students belonging to the organization, it is divided into three groups, each one having its own chairman, secretary, treasurer, program committee and advisor.

The Club's custom of giving an annual play in the auditorium, the proceeds of which go to make up a one-hundred-dollar scholarship, to be given to some deserving senior, was not carried out this year. Instead, some of the members took part in the Washington's Birthday celebration, furnishing a program of songs, and readings of historical poetry.

The object of this club is to create an interest in historical backgrounds. Each year this feeling has been greatly intensified until at present the "Clio" club is one of the largest and most popular clubs in school.

Psychology teaches that "we may profit by the experience of others." There is no greater experience than that given by our forefathers; there is no easier way to profit than by reading; and there is no greater educational knowledge of humanity than that furnished by the history of the United States.

GREGG SHORTHAND CLUB

OFFICERS

President—Lillian Shebesta
Vice-President—Vivien Koutnik
Secretary—Geraldine Higgins
Treasurer—Lillian Bruechert
Advisor—Miss Grace Norton

This club, in the first year of its existence, has been quite successful in carrying out its aims. It was organized for the purpose of coming in contact with business firms and prominent business people of Manitowoc. This was accomplished through student interviews with these people. The characteristics of a good stenographer were pointed out, and the students realized what they had to learn before reaching their goals.

Contests and games featuring Gregg Shorthand furnished amusement at several meetings. Plays, from which good business etiquette could be learned, were put on for the benefit of the club members, who some day hope to enter business life more fully equipped with business knowledge.

One project which the Gregg Shorthand Club sponsored this year was the sale of The Spiral Notebooks. Students who have used this notebook comment upon its convenience and adaptability. Because of the fact that the leaves turn fast and lie flat, and pages can be torn from it without ruining the stability of the pad, it has become popular with non-commercial as well as commercial students. This project furnished the main source of income for our club.

To show the school spirit and enthusiasm of our club members, a float, that of "Cleaning Up Two Rivers," was entered in the Homecoming Parade. As a result of this work, our entry received Honorable Mention among the school floats.

TALENT CLUB

OFFICERS

President—Edward Sladky
Vice-President—Charles Sindelar
Secretary-Treasurer—Ursula Baugniet
Program Chairman—Rhoda Ann Ziesler
Advisor—Mr. James G. Magill

The Talent Club, newly organized this fall, under the leadership of Mr. Magill has completed an enjoyable and worthwhile first year.

Its purpose has been to encourage students with ability to enlarge and dwell upon such talents as they possess. Since many joined with little or no knowledge of their own possibilities, the club was instrumental in helping them to make the discoveries.

At group meetings various programs were presented, in which members took part. Piano solos and duets, harmonica and violin selections, vocal solos, and quartet numbers all proved entertaining.

Two plays, "Not Quite Such a Goose," and "A Watch, A Wallet, and a Jack of Spades" were enacted. Members who showed a particular aptitude for reading gave selections both humorous and dramatic. Among these were Charlotte Ann Richberg and Mildred Koritzinsky, both of whom appeared on several occasions during the year. Arlene Rottmann and Virginia Waak displayed their talent for tap dancing; Quiren Yindra and Charles Sindelar contributed many piano and violin selections; while Alice Stricker and Gladys Kortens often sang popular and classical music.

The year closed with a wiener roast and picnic at Silver Creek.

OUTDOOR SPORTS CLUB

OFFICERS

President—Willott Pitz
Vice-President—George Dick
Secretary—Eugene Gerbinsky
Treasurer—MacDonald Wood
Advisor—Mr. John Stevenson

The Outdoor Sports Club is an organization newly created this year. Its aims are: (1) To create a sportsmanlike interest in all recreational activities. (2) To study the rules of athletic games and outdoor sports. (3) To develop cooperation, good sportsmanship, and fair play in the activities of outdoor life.

Skating, hockey, tennis, baseball, and track contests were arranged for the entire club throughout the year. Good sportsmanship was the essential factor stressed. Outdoor sports were considered both from the recreational and the competitive aspects, since much of the enjoyment of any sport comes from active participation. In addition, the club planned lectures by local authorities on various phases of outdoor life, including a talk on camping by Scout Executive Carl MacManus, and an explanation of the game laws by Game Warden Egan. After Mr. Egan's talk, a round-table session was held, each member contributing something to the discussion.

It is the purpose of the club to bring all of its members into every outdoor activity sponsored by it, and to develop an interest in and understanding of nature. Under the active leadership of Mr. Stevenson, the club periods have increased the interest of the members in sports and in the out-of-door life.

AVIATION CLUB

OFFICERS

President—Samuel Hall
Vice-President—Paul Zeckel
Secretary-Treasurer—William Moody
Advisor—Mr. Robert Lindwall

Aviation is becoming more and more imperative to the needs of industry and the people. It is a profession of vital interest to the world and for this reason, the Aviation Club, one of the new clubs this year, was organized, for the purpose of awakening an interest in aviation activities. The aim was accomplished by studying, building, and flying model airplanes built by the members, and by the presentation of talks relevant to modern aviation achievements and to the elementary principles of flight, by aviators and members of the club.

Mr. Hill and Mr. Nelson, both transport pilots, addressed the members of the club after which a round table discussion was held. Mr. Nelson spoke on the hazards and also humorous incidents of flying, based on personal experiences. At one meeting the club journeyed to the airport where Mr. Hill explained the fundamental parts of the airplane and their uses. The club had free use of the glider at the airport, and some of the members took the aviation course at night school.

A model airplane endurance flight contest was held in which every member of the club participated. These club periods, under the guidance of Mr. Lindwall, have intensified the interest of members in aviation activities.

DRAMATIC CLUB

OFFICERS

President—George Simon
Vice-President—Bill Muth
Secretary—Madaline Trastek
Reporter—Mollie Endries
Advisor—Mr. Frank Novitski

The Dramatic Club, whose purpose is to create and further an interest in the drama, offers decided advantages to its members. By encouraging members to become interested in participating in class plays and assembly programs, the club helps them to become less self-conscious and to develop poise and assurance.

Regular committees were appointed to take care of programs and each one was responsible for one meeting. In this way, every member was given an opportunity to take part in the organization.

"Another John Alden," a one act comedy, was put on for the Thanksgiving assembly by a cast consisting of Paul Koritzinsky, Jim Milske, Elda Ohm, Ruth Hastings, and Jermaine Grun. Other programs consisting of radio sketches, dialogues, and talks on material pertaining to the field of dramatics were given during regular club periods.

For those interested in other phases of dramatics besides acting, special work was provided. Instruction in staging, make-up, and directing was arranged, and students given an opportunity to try their hand. All the plays were produced under student direction.

BIOLOGY CLUB

OFFICERS

President—Rhoda Ann Ziesler
Vice-President—Ursula Baugniet
Secretary—Gladys Kortens
Treasurer—Joseph Brennan
Advisor—Miss Frances Gates

The Biology Club was organized by students interested in nature for the purpose of creating appreciation and gaining knowledge of living things in this locality.

Programs presented during the year have included talks by prominent business men concerning the life of plants and animals. Mr. Koutnik displayed and discussed his prize winning pigeons. Mr. Weaver, county agricultural agent, talked about the parasites with which a farmer has to contend in farm production. Dr. and Mrs. Kapitan showed some intersting motion pictures on the beauties of our national parks.

Members participated actively in the work of the club by giving reports on their hobbies—care of the high-school greenhouse, the raising of tropical fish, the collecting of insects, and photography of plants and animals.

This organization undertook two interesting projects: the transfer to the lake of small trout, reared in the aquarium at high school, and the planting of small trees and other plants which were grown in the greenhouse.

A picnic and a field trip were enjoyed as a culmination of the year's activities.

MIXED CHORUS

Director—Miss Margaret Fritschler
Accompanist—Miss Virginia Haight

The Mixed Chorus was reorganized again this year for the purpose of providing talented students with additional musical opportunities. With Miss Margaret Fritschler as director, and Miss Virginia Haight as accompanist, this choir of ninety-two mixed voices made marked progress. During the year, three joint concerts by the chorus and the bands were presented to the public. "Hospoodee Pomeelooy" by Lvorsky; "Emitte Spiritum Tuum" by Schuetky and "Hail Gladdening Light" by Dr. Charles Wood were the a capella numbers while "Home on the Range" by Guion-Rieger and "Will You Remember" from "Maytime" by Romberg-Rieger were the lighter accompanied selections given by the chorus.

The proceeds of these concerts were used to send the school's representatives to the Green Bay State Band Tournament in May.

Shakespeare summed up the value of music when he said in his famous drama of "Romeo and Juliet,"

"When gripping griefs the heart
doth wound,
And doleful dumps the mind
oppress,
Then music, with her silver sound,
With speedy help doth lend redress."

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, this year as well as last year, has been a service group rather than one working for credit. Membership in it offers an opportunity for those who play stringed instruments to participate in some musical activity. Although the orchestra is perhaps the least known of high school organizations, its music has been of a standard sufficient to warrant its furnishing music for both the senior and junior class plays, plays presented by the Lakeshore Masquers, and the fall concert, in combination with the Senior Band, Orchestra, and Chorus. With the group of this year as a foundation, the orchestra may be developed and enlarged so that in a year or two it will have reached a degree of perfection to enable it to participate in the Wisconsin School Music Tournaments which are held every spring.

The instrumentation follows:

Strings: Carl Bauer, Edwin Boettger, Richard Fagan, Earl Gustaveson, Gladys Herrmann, Mary Holsen, Milton Kaufman, Victor Korleski, George Koskamp, Virginia Kraemer, Alvin Miller, Florence Neu haus, Rodney Nowakowski, Richard Posvic, Delwyn Schubert, Paul Schaefer, and Charles Sindelar.

Woodwinds: Lincoln Kliment, Jerome Ledvina, Howard Grimmer, Norman Kubsch, Norbert Kustka, and John Svacina.

French Horns: Doris Wellhoefer and Harold Lindemann.

Trumpets: MacDonald Wood and Edward Sladky.

Basses: Ellis Clayton and Elroy Nass.

Trombone: Ernest Barger.

Piano: Inez Dorsch.

Percussion: Earl Peronto and Richard Staddler.

With a 1933 state championship to live up to, the Senior Band began earnest practice immediately after the resumption of school in the fall. As soon as the required selection for the state tournament was made known, work was begun on the number and by the annual fall concert, December 14, given in conjunction with the Junior Band, the Chorus, and the Orchestra, the selection was presented in fine form. The Senior Band also played for all football and basketball games, for the annual meeting of the Manitowoc County Teachers' Association, before the Band Mothers' Club, at the card party given by the Band Mothers, and at a pre-tournament concert, March 23, the last major concert of the season, also given in combination with the Junior Band and Chorus.

The Junior Band, whose chief function is to train young musicians, has remained in the background as a well-rounded musical organization, but has been the inexhaustible fount from which Director Rufin W. Boyd has drawn the talent necessary to fill the enormous gap in the Senior Band caused by the graduation last year of twenty-six senior musicians.

The Band Mothers' Club, who have had charge of the finances of the Senior Band, were instrumental in raising money to send them to the district band tournament at West De Pere and the state tournament at Green Bay. Without the support of this organization, Manitowoc would have been without representation at the state music tournaments. The purchase of new uniforms for the enlarged band and the payment of expenses incurred during the year was also made possible by their untiring efforts.

The complete instrumentation of the Senior Band follows:

Clarinets: Berle Hrabik, Elwood Krueger, Lincoln Kliment, Richard Schmitz, Ernest Krajnik, Russell Novak, Margaret Fishbeck, Charles Youngchild, Richard Engel, Robert Westphal, Constance Weber, Ruth Maresh, Charles Witt, and Lester Teply.

Cornets and Trumpets: MacDonald Wood, Edward Sladky, Edward Hudon, Russell Meyer, Paul Koritzinsky, Elroy Brick, Russell Krueger, and Norbert Derus.

Saxaphones: William Daeke, Albina Pech, Evelyn Pech, Robert Borcherdt, William Schnorr, and Paul Schmitz.

French Horns: Doris Wellhoefer, Harold Lindemann, Jasper Wright, Elroy Stueck, Clifford Fox, and Robert Shuber.

Trombones: Jack Stock, Ernest Barger, John Kotick, Roger Pentzien, Emmett Klessig, and Jack Massopust.

Flutes: Inez Dorsch, Howard Grimmer, and Adelaide Kellner.

Bass Clarinet: Dale Panosh.

Alto Clarinet: Donald Dill.

E Flat Clarinet: Elton Jelinek.

Oboes: John Svacina and Otto Stokes.

Bassoons: Norman Kubsch and Norbert Kustka.

Baritones: Victor Bohacek, Harlan Wehrwein, and Erwin Krajnik.

Basses: Ellis Clayton, Elroy Nass, David Novak, Joseph Cigler, and Charles Sindelar.

Percussion: Eugene Gerbinsky, James Schneider, John Engel, Earl Peronto, and Glenn Klodzik.

The Senior Band loses twenty-three seniors through graduation this year, which will prove quite a handicap in the organization of the band next fall.

The instrumentation of the Junior Band follows:

Clarinets: Howard Kuecker, Marcel Dempsky, Edwin Shimon, Delwyn Schubert, Mary Jane Heise, Norman Bursek, Ruben Glihsmann, Dorothy Ladwig, Marion Baird, Wilmer Schroeder, Daniel Wacholz, Helen Endries, Eunice Nemetz, Ann Hynek, and Francis Blahnik.

Cornets and trumpets: Robert Mlada, Jacqueline Houston, Richard Hessel, Hazel Dorsch, Alvin Titera, Milton Skarvan, and Adrian Wernecke.

Saxaphones: Victor Bauman, Richard Posvic, Adeline Klemish, and John Shuber.

Euphonium: Howard Kraemer.

Melaphone: Howard Wellhoefer.

Trombone: Mary Zinkle.

Bassoon: Bernice Bishop.

Flutes: Edrie Lindemann and Cleopha Healy.

Basses: John Butz, Jeremiah Chizek, and Ruhl Metzger.

Percussion: Chester Steckmesser, Richard Staddler, Leo Labinski, and Edwin Boettger.

The officers of the Junior Band are:

President—Richard Staddler

Librarian—Edrie Lindemann.

SPEECH ACTIVITIES

Forensics, under the direction of Mr. F. A. Novitski, have been a prominent part of the extra-curricular activities at Lincoln this year. Although no conference championships were won, those participating received valuable training—training which, for those who are juniors, will be invaluable for next year.

Sixteen boys responded to the call for entrants in oratory and out of these, five were chosen to compete in the finals of the local contest. From this meet, George Simon, delivering the oration, "The Tax Racket," and Robert Stiefvater with the selection "Technocracy Passes", were chosen to represent Manitowoc at the National Forensic League at the contest held in Ripon, in which George Simon reached the finals. In the Fox River Valley contest at Oshkosh, he tied for third place.

An unusually large number of students tried out for extemporaneous speaking this year. However, only one elimination contest was held, the winners of which represented Manitowoc in the state and conference meets. First and second places went to Gerald Ferguson and Jerome Ledvina. The National Forensic League Contest this year furnished strong competition in this division, and creditable work was done by Gerald Ferguson, who was not eliminated until the semi-finals.

Thirteen girls turned out for declamatory tryouts. As this particular speech activity is divided into two sections—dramatic and humorous—four girls were chosen from the group. In the elimination contest held in November, Charlotte Randolph placed first in dramatic declamatory with "Reunion", and Charlotte Richberg took second with "Antonio Opens His Eyes." Charlotte Randolph represented Manitowoc at the conference meet in Sheboygan, and both girls entered the National Forensic Contest at Ripon.

In humorous declamatory, Madaline Trastek with the selection "The Lady Across the Aisle" and Shirley Axel who gave "Jimmy Jones Studies Geography", were Lincoln's entrants. Madaline survived the preliminary rounds but was later eliminated.

DEBATE

The debate question in the Fox River Valley Conference this year was, "Resolved That the United States Adopt the Essential Features of the British System of Radio Control."

A large number of boys and girls responded for tryouts and after an elimination contest was held, with Mr. C. G. Stangel, Mr. James G. Magill, and Mr. F. A. Novitski, debate coach, as judges, the following teams were chosen:

Negative

1. Gerald Ferguson
2. Charles Brady
3. John Zimdar
4. Arnulf Aarhus (alternate)

Affirmative

1. Paul Koritzinsky
2. Jerome Ledvina
3. Millard Eber
4. Paul Mueller (alternate)

However, after the teams were chosen, it was decided to discontinue debate as a speech activity this year. Since the National Forensic League tournament came early in the season, there was not sufficient time in which to gather material or participate in a practice debate before entering into conference competition. There were no interscholastic debates in Fox River Valley schools, and for this reason it was decided to spend more time on extempore and oratory.

Although it was dropped from the forensic program, the majority of those chosen for participation in debate, turned their attention to other speech activities.

Gerald Ferguson, Charles Brady, John Zimdar, and Jerome Ledvina turned out for extemporaneous speaking, while Paul Koritzinsky, Millard Eber, and Arnulf Aarhus participated in oratory.

ATHLETICS

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Lindwall

Because of the discontinuation of cross country for one year, Coach Lindwall was faced with the task of building a squad of harriers out of an inexperienced group. They finished their season with a record of one victory, two losses, and third place in the conference run, displaying much fight and determination in every meet.

Considering the fact that the Lincolnites ran against teams made up of many letter men, they were a real threat. Several individuals placed near the top, and Stechmesser crossed the line first in two meets, but the Red and White could not place high enough to win the majority of their meets.

Capt. Thomas Braasch

Herbert Stechmesser, Otto Bruns, Warberton Maertz, and Raymond Luebke were given letters. Prospects for next year's squad are considered promising, for three of these letter men will return. Luebke, because he is over the age limit, will not be eligible for competition.

Certificates of award were given for faithful service to Captain Thomas Braasch, Clifford Trottier, Sylvester Barbeau, and Robert Koch.

The results of the meets follow: Mission House 15–Manitowoc 48; West Green Bay 28–Manitowoc 27; East Green Bay 30–Manitowoc 25; Third place in the Conference Run.

Row 1—Arthur Sobieski, Russell Barbeau, Mark Heidorf, Sylvester Barbeau, Clifford Trottier, Le Roy Behnke, Victor Korlesky, Leonard O'Neil, Robert Koch, Ellsworth Jirikowic, Floyd Trottier.
Row 2—Paul Zechel, Isadore Gosz, Earl Rusch, Leonard Pikulik, Chester Kirkevold, Ray Heise, Reinhardt Dwyer, Frank Cisler, Raymond Luebke, Herbert Stechmesser, Roland Heinz.
Row 3—Myron Schmitt, Warburton Maertz, Otto Bruns, Thomas Braasch, Howard Rezack, Howard Kraemer, Harland Adler, Edward Konopacki, Norman Brandt, Bill Crowe.

FOOTBALL

Coach Winder

With a record of three victories, one tie, and five losses, the 1933 football season was not an entirely satisfactory one. However, some good material was discovered which may prove invaluable in turning out a better team next fall.

After losing thirteen players by graduation, Coach Gordon Winder faced the season with the knowledge that he would have to build his team around a group of men coming from the second squad. He and his staff faced their problems with determination and despite these obstacles, developed a team, which although it won only one conference game, produced a number of outstanding players, and by the end of the season had become a football machine feared by the strongest teams in the conference. It was a team of new men, who at the opening of the season demonstrated a poor brand of football, but during the last two games proved to be a fast working aggregation.

The letter winners for this season were: Beers, Bonk, Derus, Egan, Fidler, Johnsrud, Madson, Miller, Mittnacht, Nichols, Randolph, Stiefvater, Ulovitz, John, Korleski, McCambridge, Pitz, and Wilda. The last five named are juniors, and will be back next year fighting for their regular places on the squad. Kirkevold was awarded a certificate for four years of service.

FIRST FOOTBALL TEAM

Row 1—Willott Pitz, Oscar Johnsrud, Robert Stiefvater, Robert Madson, Raymond Nichols, Edward Ulovitz —Captain, Cyril Miller, Rex John Jr., Emil Beers, Tim Egan, Robert McCambridge.
Row 2—Leonard Swiger, Everett Pope, Robert Randolph, Bernard Jansen, Alex Derus, Lester Mittnacht, Harold Kirkevold, Frank Bonk, Arthur Mrotek, Marvin Korleski, Victor Fidler, Bob Gloe.

Menasha 7—Manitowoc 12
September 16

The Lincoln gridders started the season with a win by defeating Menasha, a non-conference foe, in a hard fought game. Ulovitz and McCambridge co-starred to bring us our victory, each scoring a touchdown.

Oshkosh 13—Manitowoc 0
September 23

Manitowoc lost their first home game to the powerful Oshkosh eleven. The Lincoln ball carriers couldn't break away from the Sawduster defense when within scoring distance.

Fond du Lac 39—Manitowoc 6
September 30

Fond du Lac, a team making a strong bid for the conference championship, inflicted the worst defeat that Manty took all season. Pope made the lone touchdown for Manitowoc.

Marinette 2—Manitowoc 13
October 7

Manitowoc travelled to Marinette to win their only conference game. McCambridge and Ulovitz scored touchdowns. Marinette scored on a safety, when McCambridge recovered a blocked punt and was downed behind his own goal line.

West Green Bay 27—Manitowoc 0
October 14

The unusual ability of West to intercept passes helped them defeat the Ships. Manitowoc outplayed West the first quarter, but could not keep up the pace.

East Green Bay 26
Manitowoc 0
October 21

Captain Ulovitz

Playing on a muddy field, which affected the Red and White's punting, the team lost to East. The score would have been much smaller, but two Manitowoc punts that were blocked, were converted into Green Bay touchdowns.

Appleton 6—Manitowoc 0
October 28

In a closely contested game, Appleton defeated the Lincolnites on their own field, by scoring in the third quarter on an off-tackle play by Pope.

Two Rivers 0—Manitowoc 6
November 14

Before a large homecoming crowd, Manitowoc defeated Two Rivers in a thrilling game which proved to be a real battle from start to finish. In a fourth quarter drive, Captain Ulovitz plunged through the line with the winning touchdown. Twice during the game the Purgolds were repulsed within Manitowoc's five yard line.

Sheboygan 7—Manitowoc 7
November 21

The Lincoln eleven played their best game of the year, and held the supposedly superior Chairmen to a tie. Sheboygan scored their touchdown in the third quarter, and made the extra point. During the fourth quarter, McCambridge, on a run from midfield, with perfect interference crossed the opponents' goal for a touchdown, after which Ulovitz made the extra point to tie the game.

The second team was organized with the definite purpose of teaching aspiring candidates the fundamentals of football and developing them into first team material. The seconds enjoyed a fairly successful season, winning two, losing one and tying three games, two being scoreless ties.

The team played Chilton twice, the first time holding their opponents, a much heavier squad, to a scoreless tie. Chilton threatened several times but our defense tightened in the last few minutes, and kept them from crossing our goal. In the second game, Chilton handed the seconds their only defeat of the season.

The Red and White reserves ran roughshod over Two Rivers in their first game finishing up with a score of 48-0. The second game found Two Rivers reserves a much stronger squad, for they succeeded in holding our seconds to a tie.

Manty seconds also played two games with Sheboygan, taking the first one in a close battle, featuring some brilliant running by our backfield men. The second game was another scoreless tie. Each team threatened several times but both lacked the scoring punch.

All of the second team members will be available next year for the varsity squad.

BASKETBALL

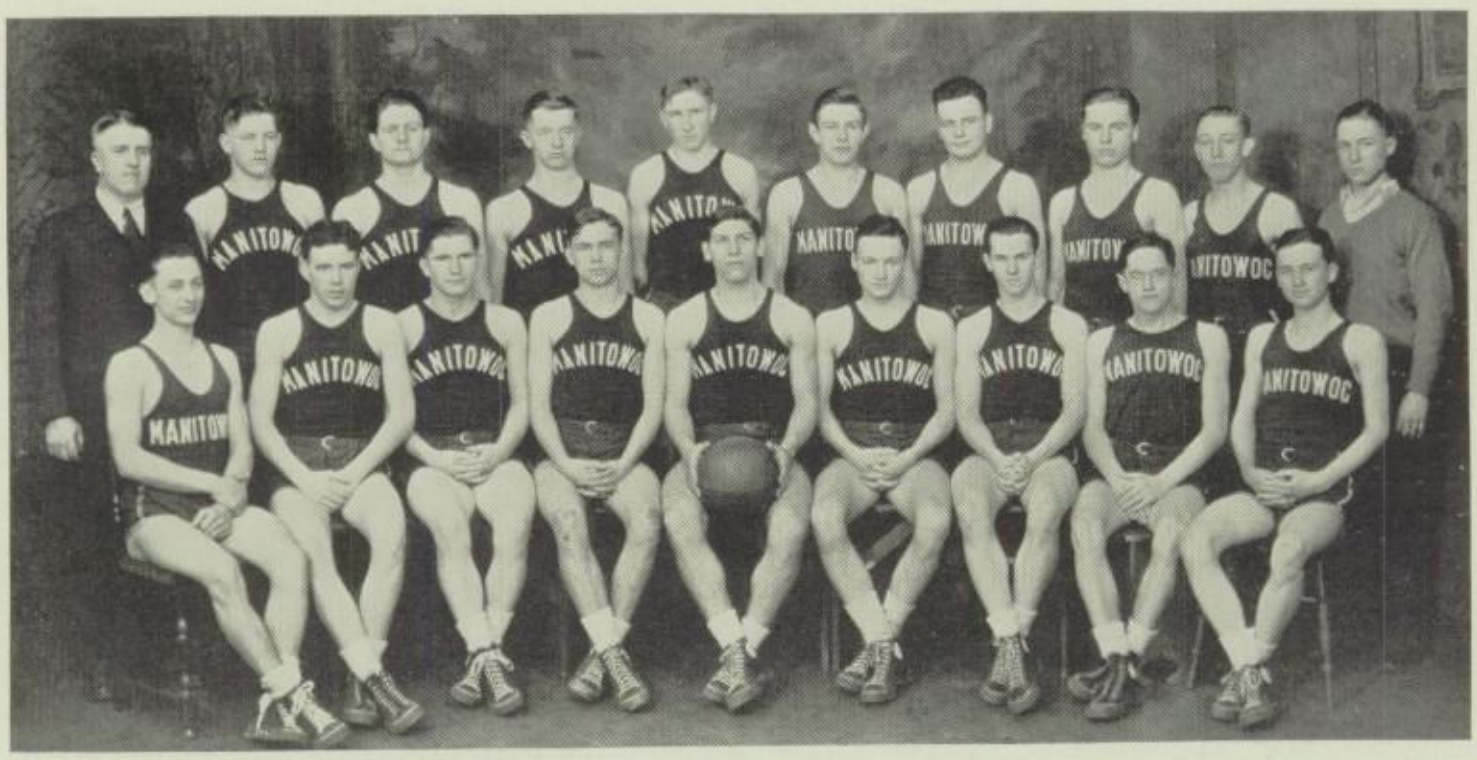
Coach John

This year, the Red and White engaged in fifteen games, were victorious in nine and lost six, tying for second place in the Fox River Valley Conference. Captain Eddie Ulovitz was runner-up in the individual scoring race, and Oscar Johnsrud placed sixth.

As last year's Valley co-champions, the Lincoln High quintet, with three returning letter-men, Ulovitz, Schuette, and Johnsrud, was a team to be respected and feared by the Valley leaders. With these three letter men and three other veterans as a nucleus, Coach John built a winning team.

After winning its first three conference games the Shipbuilders suffered four successive defeats. Then they came out of their mid-season slump to win four out of the five remaining games. The Johnmen broke even with Two Rivers, West Green Bay, and Oshkosh, but were defeated twice at the hands of the league-winning quintet, Appleton. East Green Bay and Fond du Lac were not included in the schedule, but the Ships scored double victories over Sheboygan and Marinette. They also defeated Reedsville and Kiel in non-return games.

Basketball, this year, was played in a repaired and improved gymnasium. During the Christmas vacation, a new floor was laid, which is said to be one of the fastest in the state. Other improvements were also made.



FIRST BASKET-BALL TEAM

The summary of the games follows:

Manitowoc 9—
Valders 17

On December 4, Manitowoc dropped the opening game of the basketball season to Valders by a score of 17–9. Manty's passing and ball handling were erratic and as a result, twelve players saw action.

Manitowoc 16—Oshkosh 12

On December 15, Lincoln High defeated the Sawdusters of Oshkosh on the latter's home floor in the Valley opener. The game was a typical Shipbuilder-Sawduster battle, fast and furious with little scoring.

Manitowoc 17—Kiel 14

We were hosts to Kiel, champions of their league, in the local gym on December 22. Behind 10-13 in the fourth quarter, the Ships, led by Schuette and Egan, put on a spirited drive that finally netted a victory.

Manitowoc 27—Reedsville 13

Showing a lot of pep and drive, the Red and White warriors defeated Reedsville by a score of 27-13 in a game played at the Woodrow Wilson gym on January 5. The Highs jumped to an early lead and maintained it to the end.

Manitowoc 26—Marinette 10

In a slow, rather dull game, Lincolnites walloped the Marines of Marinette by a 26-10 score, and in doing so, hung up their second conference victory. Captain Eddie Ulovitz again led the Ships in scoring, caging four baskets and one free throw.

Manitowoc 25—Sheboygan 18

The Ships displayed a polished brand of basketball when they defeated Sheboygan by a score of 25-18 in the local gym. The Chairs brought the count up to 19-17, but the Johnmen put on a final rally to win.

Manitowoc 8—Two Rivers 14

On January 23, the Ships lost to the Purgolds at Two Rivers by a 14-8 margin, Johnsrud being the only Lincolnite to cage a basket. The game was almost an exact duplicate of the one played last year at Two Rivers.

Manitowoc 12—West Green Bay 13

Manitowoc was upset by West 13-12 in a thrilling game played on the latter's home floor, January 26. The Ships missed numerous short shots and several "set-ups", any of which would have won the game.

Manitowoc 16—Appleton 27

On February 2 the Johnmen fell victim to the league-leading Appleton quintet on the Papermaker's home floor by a 27-16 margin. Although trailing 16-3 at the intermission, the Lincolnites outscored the Shieldsmen 13-11 in the final quarters.

Manitowoc 28—Oshkosh 31

Oshkosh avenged her former defeat by the Ships early in the season when she won a see-saw battle in the local gym on February 9 by a 31-28 count. Manitowoc led for the first half, but the Sawdusters rallied in the final half to win. This marked the Ships' fourth successive defeat.

Manitowoc 21—Two Rivers 18

The Ships evened an old score on February 13 when they came from behind and scored a 21-18 victory over Two Rivers in the local gym. In the last quarter, the Lincolnites ran the score from 10-16 against them, to 21-18 in their favor.

Manitowoc 27—Marinette 10

On February 16 Manitowoc trounced Marinette 27-10 on the Marines' home floor. After a slow start in the first half, the Ships, led by Capt. Ulovitz and Oscar Johnsrud went on a scoring spree.

Manitowoc 22—West Green Bay 13

The Lincolnites proved that the previous West-Manty tilt was indeed an upset by easily defeating the Wildcats on February 23 on the local gym by a 22-13 score. Although playing with an injured knee, Capt. Ulovitz was high scorer of the evening with eleven points.

Manitowoc 19—Sheboygan 8

March 2, the Ships defeated their old rivals at Sheboygan by a score of 19-8. Bob McCambridge creditably filling the position at forward left vacant by Johnsrud, who was injured by an automobile, was high point man.

Manitowoc 19—Appleton 31

Appleton High School's wonder team defeated the hard-fighting Manitowoc quintet 31-19, for the Paper-

SECOND BASKET-BALL TEAM

makers' twentieth consecutive victory. The Shieldsmen had too much height and also superior ball handling.

Thus closed the basketball career of two three-year men, Ulovitz and Schuette, of a two-year veteran, Johnsrud, and of McCabe and Egan, both of whom played one year on the team. Letter winners for the current season were Capt. Ulovitz, Bill Schuette, Rex John, Clifford McCabe Willott Pitz, Oscar Johnsrud, Tim Egan, and Bob McCambridge. Honorable recognition certificates were awarded to Phil Miles, Ray Nichols, Vic Fidler, Harlan Wehrwein, and Alex Derus. Rex John and Willott Pitz were chosen co-captains for the 1934-35 season. The three letter men returning next year, Pitz, John, and McCambridge, will form the nucleus around which the 1934-35 team will have to be built.

SECOND TEAM SCHEDULE

The schedule of the Second Team games is as follows:

Dec. 4—
Manitowoc 8; Valders 9

Jan. 19—
Manitowoc 14; Sheboygan 16

Jan. 23—
Manitowoc 21; Two Rivers 9

Jan. 26—
Manitowoc 14; W. Green Bay 25

Feb. 13—
Manitowoc 16; Two Rivers 14

Feb. 16—
Manitowoc 35; Herald-Times 9

Feb. 23—
Manitowoc 17; W. Green Bay 21

March 2—
Manitowoc 7; Sheboygan 25

March 9—
Manitowoc 11; St. Mary's A. A. 8

In an effort to secure a winning second team, Coach Winder tried various combinations of players, and in so doing, produced some material that looks promising for next year's varsity squad. Although they ran against some strong competition, the Lincolnites came out on top in four out of the nine games played.

The reserves, composed of one freshman, three sophomores, and the rest juniors, scored 120 points on offense during the season, but allowed 109 points to be scored against them.

The yearlings handed double defeats to Two Rivers, trounced the Herald-Times squad, and were victorious over the St. Mary's Athletic Association. They met defeat at the hands of the Valders quintet, and were beaten twice by both West Green Bay and Sheboygan. These games were all played preliminary to those played by the first team, and not infrequently awakened a greater interest among the spectators than the varsity games.

Following is a record of the individual scoring of the reserves for the entire season: Bill Muth–29; Dick John–21; Robert Hamachek–16; Ned Murphy–11; Lawrence Jansky – 9; Robert Harrington–7; Louis Cummings–5; Norbert Shimek–3; Joe Tadych–2.

SWIMMING

Bob Randolph

The 1934 swimming team had a comparatively successful season, claiming three victories and three defeats.

This year saw the Manty tanksters inflict defeat on the Two Rivers swimming team for the first time in the history of the school. Numerous pool records were broken throughout the season including those in the backstroke, the 150 yard medley relay, and the 200 yard relay events.

The team was built around Kenneth Notz and Robert Randolph, co-captains, Emil Beers, Henry Kinzel, and Thomas Braasch. Braasch and Randolph were the outstanding scorers of the season, the latter scoring points in every meet and placing third in the backstroke in the state meet.

Kenneth Notz

Letters were awarded to Kenneth Notz, Robert Randolph, Thomas Braasch, Emil Beers, Henry Kinzel, Robert Storms, and Edwin Hansen. George Dick, Robert Fargo, Bernard Jansen, Cyril Miller, and David Walling were presented with honorable recognition certificates as a consolation award for their services on the team.

The season's record follows:

Manitowoc 45—Alumni 18
Manitowoc 23—Green Bay "Y" 32
Manitowoc 33—Two Rivers 31
Manitowoc 32—Sheboygan 41
Manitowoc 45—Sheboygan 28

Row 1—Robert Storms, Henry Kinzel, Thomas Braasch, Bob Randolph, Kenneth Notz, Edwin Hansen, Warburton Maertz, Emil Beers.

Row 2—Roy Becker, Grover Becker, Bob Fargo, Dave Walling, George Dick, Cyril Miller, Harold Barbeau, Robert Lomprey, Chester Stechmesser, Roland Heinz—Manager.

TRACK

Because of the large turnout at the first call for trackmen, the prospects for this year's squad seemed better than they have been for the past two years. Besides the five lettermen returning, a host of inexperienced men reported, who undoubtedly can be developed enough this year to be point winners by the end of the season.

The beginning of the 1934 track season saw two records broken and several threatened. Emil Beers in the interclass meet which the seniors won, set a new school record for the discus by throwing it 118 feet. The old record of 117 feet, 7 inches, was held by Gordon Langenkamp, star weight man for the past three seasons.

The Lincolnites took the meet with the Alumni quite easily, scoring seven firsts, while their opponents scored only three. The possibilities for the track squad as shown in this meet seemed unusually good. Men who have been outstanding in their events in the early meets this year are: Jansky, McCambridge, and Rezach in the 100 yard dash; Egan and Wehrwein, high hurdles; Harrington and Schneider, low hurdles; Kraemer, Zagrodnik, Gospodarek, and Menzel, 440 men; Stechmesser, Bonk, and Bruns, milers; Beers, John, and Wehrwein, discus; Schneider, McCambridge, and Wehrwein, 220 yard dash men; Francis, Eber, and Maertz, half milers; Egan, Murphy, and Heise, high jump; White, Miller, and Schultz, pole vault; Menzel, Harrington, and Kraemer, broad jump; and Schneider, Wehrwein, Menzel, and McCambridge, who make up the half mile relay team.

Row 2—Arthur Baruth, Thomas Wyseman, George Kost, Ray Heise, Joseph Tadych, Clement Wier, George Hrabik, Roland Heinz, Mgr.
Riw 3—Robert Koch, Albert Zagrodnik, John Wilda, Millard Eber, Warburton Maertz, Ned Murphy, Anthony Gospodarek, Joe Schultz.

Saturday, April 28, the Manitowoc track men were hosts to West Green Bay. Johnson, who entered four events and took four first places, was the individual star of the meet. However, other claimants for individual honors were Herbert Stechmesser and Earl White. Stechmesser, running the mile, was in third place and apparently losing ground with only one lap to go. He summoned reserve strength and put on one of the best sprints ever seen in local track history, to win his event well ahead of the rest of the runners.

White, with some beautiful pole vaulting, broke the school record of 10 feet, 6 inches set by Kenneth Brey in 1930, by going over the bar at 10 feet, 7½ inches. Manty lost the meet, 65 to 43, but the manner in which they fought in every event, is an indication that they will furnish the opposition with plenty of competition the remainder of the season.

In a triangular meet with West Green Bay and Shawano at West, May 5, Manitowoc won second place. Cyril Miller broke the school record set by White the previous week by jumping 10 feet, 9 inches to win first place. Johnson of West was high point man of the meet, again taking four first places. The scores were: West 81, Manitowoc 59, and Shawano 36.

Fond du Lac, participating in track for the first time, met our squad here on May 12. Their inexperience was very apparent as they were overwhelmed by the score of 81½ to 11½. A strong west wind and the fact that our athletes were seldom hard pressed, prevented them from making any sensational performances in their last home meet. Fond du Lac did not score a first in any of the events.

May 19, found Manitowoc at Appleton for the relay carnival in which West Green Bay won first with 53 points. Oshkosh was second, Manitowoc third, Appleton fourth, and East Green Bay fifth. The medley team, composed of McFarlane, Stechmesser, Kraemer, and Bonk won first in their event; Emil Beers won first in the discus, and Tim Egan placed first in the high jump.

There was no regular captain in track this year, but before each meet, one was appointed to serve in that capacity.

Because it was necessary for the Flambeau to go to press, it was not possible to summarize the entire season, but the schedule follows:

Completed Schedule:

April 21 Alumni 34–Manitowoc 74

April 28 West Green Bay 65 — Manitowoc 42.

May 5 West Green Bay 81, Shawano 36, Manitowoc 59.

TENNIS

Coach Ludwig

Tennis as a sport has advanced in the past few years to a place of importance in the major athletics of Lincoln High. Under the tutelage of Mr. Ludwig, our tennis teams have always been of the highest caliber. This year's team was strengthened by the return of seven veterans, letter winners from last year. Manitowoc in all her meets last year lost only one, and all of the last year's team was back with the exception of Captain Koehler. However, his place was ably filled by Bob Borcherdt, this year's captain and top ranking player. There has been very close competition for the first five berths on the 1934 squad and candidates have reported faithfully every night after school to play elimination contests.

The first meet of this year was held at Sheboygan, and Manitowoc was somewhat handicapped because of the fact that our netters had been unable to practise on the clay courts. Despite the lack of practise, however, they were victorious over the Chair City team, winning all the matches and losing only one set in thirteen played. Borcherdt defeated Ebenreiter 6-0; 6-0; Muth defeated Gottsacher 3-6; 6-0; 6-1; Zimmer defeated Monson 6-3; 7-5; and Walling won from Verhags 8-6; 6-4.

In the doubles Borcherdt and Zimmer beat Ebentreiter and Monson 6-2, 6-1; while Muth and Ferguson beat Voight and Vollrath 6-2, 6-1.

The next meet was played on our home court against Appleton, Manitowoc making a clean sweep of the singles but losing the two doubles matches. Individual matches resulted as follows: Borcherdt defeated Remley 6-3, 6-1; Zimmer defeated Catlin 6-2, 4-6, 6-2; Muth defeated Wonser 6-3, 6-2; Gloe won from Morrow 6-1, 6-1, and Ferguson won from Schwerbel 6-4, 6-4.

In the doubles matches, Bannerman and Miles were defeated by Remley and Morrow 6-4, 6-3. Hamachek and Lefky lost to Catlin and Wonser 6-3, 6-2.

On May 3, Neenah netters journeyed to our city, in hopes of breaking our string of victories. However, they lost by an official count of 4 to 3. Manitowoc took three singles and one doubles to Neenah's two singles and one doubles. Neenah, however, won all three of the unofficial matches. In the official singles, Borcherdt beat Strange 6-4, 6-3. Zimmer was beaten by Schmerein 7-5, 11-9. Gloe beat Erdman 6-4, 6-4. Muth beat Althaus 1-6, 6-0, 6-4. Walling was beaten by Fetters 6-0, 6-2. Muth and Zimmer defeated Erdman and Lemberg 6-2, 6-2, while Borcherdt and Gloe were beaten in a hard fought three set match, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

In the unofficial singles matches, Bannerman was beaten by Lemberg 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, and Lefky was beaten by Albrecht 6-3, 6-3. In doubles Walling and Ferguson were beaten by Fetter and Albrecht 7-5, 7-5. This year's schedule kept our netters busy, it sometimes being necessary to play two meets a week.

Captain Robert Borcherdt

Owing to the fact that the Flambeau had to go to press, it was not possible to include the entire season's record. The schedule of all meets follows:

April 21 at Sheboygan

Manitowoc will lose eight players by graduation: Captain Borcherdt, Zimmer, Gloe, Walling, Ferguson, Schuette, Bannerman, and Miles. Next year's team will probably be built around Muth, Cummings, Hamachek, Lefky, Simon, Kleman, Ladwig and Schnorr, but the coaches look for much promising material from the lower classmen.

Row 1—Bob Hamachek, Bill Ohde, Gerald Ferguson, Bob Borcherdt—Cap't, Raymond Zimmer, Bob Gloe, Douglas Bannerman.
Row 2—Mr. Stevenson—Ass't Coach, Tony Lefky, David Walling, Bill Muth, Bill Schuette, Phil Miles, George Simon, Bradford Sershon, Manager, Coach Ludwig.

INTRAMURALS

The intramural program, as it has been developed at Lincoln, gives opportunity for students to participate in any form of activity which may appeal to them. Under the direction of Mr. Robert E. Lindwall, there has been increased diversity in the sports offered this year with a larger number taking active part in them.

Sports completed at this time are volleyball, water polo, touch football, horseshoe, punting, drop-kicking, boxing, wrestling, spot-shooting, and basketball.

High point men are chosen every year and gain their points by two methods. Every participant in any sport is awarded a number of points for entering that sport, and players are awarded additional points for placing on winning teams.

High point men for the classes are: seniors: Robert Fargo, 113; Ellsworth Klug, 104; Edmund Johansen, 102; juniors: Reinhardt Dwyer, 121; Rudolph Menchl, 119; Ray Heise, 109; sophomores: Paul Rohrer, 97; Wilmer Schroeder, 92; Paul Schroeder, 81; freshmen: Frederick Luebke, 71; Leonard O'Neil, 58; and Emil Lukes, 55.

Champions in the various sports are: horseshoe–McKenna and Lomprey in doubles and McKee in singles; punting–Menzel, senior; Vollendorf, junior; Schroeder-Rohrer, sophomores; O'Neil, freshmen: drop-kicking–Ellsworth Klug, senior; Roy Schmidt-Dwyer, juniors; Derus-Swette, sophomores, and O'Neil-Miller, freshmen; boxing–Charles Athas, 115 pounds; Fred Steffen, 125 pounds; Don Teske, 135 pounds, and Harold Anderson, 145 pounds. Junior and sophomore champions were chosen in ping pong—Muth for the juniors and Kleman for the sophomores.

Honors in senior spot-shooting were carried off by teams from room 105 composed of: Harold Heise, Roy Newlin, Edmund Johansen, Floyd Menzel, Robert Koch, Cliff McCabe, Gordon Johnson, Phil Miles, and Ellsworth Klug. Representing room 223, Paul Zechel won first place in the junior class. Room 302, with Russell Cogswell, Ervin Derus, Jerry Brennan, Wlady Brodowski, and Henry Burger headed the sophomores, while room 209 was the champion of the freshman class with Ervin Mrotek, Donald Orth, Max Mrotek, and Mike O'Neil.

Senior touch football teams were forced to bow to representatives from 105: Floyd Menzel, Phil Miles, Gerald Peppard, Gordon Johnson, Ellsworth Klug, Clifford McCabe, Clyde Miller, and Ervin Mrotek. Junior winners were: Rudy Menchl, Ray Melicor, Ned Murphy, David Novak, Wayne Palmer, Dale Panosh, Ernest Moldenhauer, and Bob O'Connor of room 218. The pace for the sophomores was set by 307 with William Schnorr, Wilmer Schroeder, Paul Schroeder, Bob Sinclair, Paul Rohrer, Donald Rystickeen, Richard Schmitz, and Jack Schuette. Freshman honors were carried off by 210: Arthur Sobieszezyk, Sylvester Rohrer, Ward Schuette, George Sitkerwitz, Jack Seitz, Dick John, George Hrabik, and Bill Seitz.

By winning the championship in basketball, 105 garnered their third championship of the year. Team members are: Ellsworth Klug, Gordon Johnson, Floyd Menzel, Gerald Peppard, Clifford McCabe, and Ervin Mrotek. Room 218 came through with a win in the junior division with: Rudy Menchl, James Milski, Dale Panosh, Ernest Moldenhauer, and Wayne Palmer. The sophomores were headed by 302's team of Ervin Derus, Russel Cogswell, Jerry Brennan, Henry Burger, Reinert Dormas, and Benny Budnik, while the freshmen victors were Clarence Albert, Charles Athas, Russell Barbeau, Elroy Brick, Louis Close, Edwin Boettger, Robert Collins, and John Collins from room 201.

The winning team in water polo consisted of: Kenneth Notz, Rex John, Bob Madsen, Bob Stiefvater, Everett Pope, Kurth Granger, Harry Wilda, Bob Randolph, Edward Bialkowski, and Willott Pitz.

Volley ball was divided into two divisions: The senior-junior league was won by: Clarence Strodhoff, Elroy Stueck, Mark Soden, Brad Sershon, Bob Stiefvater, and Harlan Wehrwein. Winners of the freshman-sophomore division were: Paul Rohrer, Paul Schroeder, Wilmer Schroeder, Carl Stadle, William Schnorr, and Richard Schmitz.

CHEER LEADERS

Everyone knows that a good spirit helps to bring success to a school's athletic teams. Although the regular cheerleaders had had but one year's experience and the freshmen none at all, with the help of the Senior and Junior Pep Clubs they have done much to bring out a cooperative spirit in the students this year and to make them more "pep conscious".

The regular school cheer leaders are: Richard Staddler, Reinhardt Dwyer, and Bob Hrudka, all juniors who will be back next year. It is their job to select and train all candidates for junior cheer leaders. Tryouts are held each fall after several weeks of practice and are open to all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. Those chosen this last fall were Lawrence Swoboda, Art Sobieski, and Jack Nelson —all members of the freshman class. Tryouts will be held again next fall.

For the first time in Lincoln's history, the regulars were provided with uniforms, which were purchased from the proceeds of the Pep Club dance. These consist of bright red duck trousers and red jerseys with a white felt megaphone on the front. A large megaphone—red with a white "M" on it—was also purchased by the Pep Club.

Miss Virginia Haight has worked with these boys for the past two years, and with her help they have taken charge of pep meetings, besides leading songs and yells at all games.

Bob Hrudka and Reinhardt Dwyer were awarded letters.

A CHAT WITH MISS HEALY

NORA HEALY
Registrar

I had often wondered what a shock absorber looked like, I had heard so much about them from long-winded auto salesmen and car ads. But never in my wildest dreams had I fancied the apparition in the form of the pleasant woman who so efficiently keeps the cogs of the great office wheel synchronized from eight until five daily.—And yet there she sat, Miss Nora Healy, declaring that in reality she is the shock-absorber between the outer-office school life and inner-office mysteries.

"Quite interesting, this shock-absorber business," thought I, as I sought a chair which provided a convenient foot rest in which to ensconce myself. Having procured one, I proceeded to favor Miss Healy with an absorbed gaze. Plunk! Jarred out of my reverie, I glanced up just in time to see a couple of coat tails disappearing through the door.

"It so happens that I recognize him and consequently know what the package is," remarked Miss Healy with a smile, "but that isn't always the case. These unannounced and unmarked packages may contain janitors' tools, students' lunches, books for teachers, publications material, or a million and one other things. However, I generally scout around until I find the owner."

If one is in distress as to whether or not to use two "s's" in occasionally or is a bit hazy about the exact location of Timbuctoo, he simply calls Miss Healy and is righted about his perplexity.

"The students of today seem to realize more fully what the school is really for," she declared, vigorously checking up absentee reports. "They are very easy and pleasant to deal with, and it seems that they have problems of more mature people."

Absently, I allowed my gaze to wander about the room, when it chanced to alight upon a highly colored and decorative piece of paper bearing the admonition, "Be kind to animals." Suspicious thoughts as to this office guardian's classification of ye weak and weary high school studes were dancing through the old caput when suddenly out of the ether came the startling command, "Please let me sign the book!" And there smilingly, stood a blonde blue-eyed senior boy calmly awaiting that night mare of student life—tardy book! With that remarkable poise of hers, the registrar was the first to regain her composure and produce the desired bit of paper. Open mouthed, there I sat, glued to my seat, wonderingly scrutinizing this unusual person who had issued that bit of phenomona—"pleasing" for the tardy book!!

Of course there are those students who, having been sent for one hundred books, insist that she produce that number although sixty is the absolute maximum available. And there are some who abhor her because of her work of tardy and gum book custodian, but nearly all by graduation realize how much of the clock-work-like routine of Lincoln High is due to the ability of Miss Healy.

JUNIOR PROMENADE

ELMER QUERAM
Prom Chairman

Amid nautical surroundings and to the melodious strains of Howard Kraemer's Vikings, Miss Deloris Schoblaska with Elmer Queram will lead the Grand March of the Junior Prom, June eighth.

The sailor effect will be cleverly brought out by concentrating blue and white colors about the punch-bowl booths and the orchestra pit. A ceiling of solid blue will cast an aura of dreaminess about the entire ball room.

With the assistance of Miss Margery Stangel and Mr. Edwin Erickson, class advisors, Elmer Queram has selected the following juniors to assist him.

Music Committee: Pauline Fechter, chairman, Willot Pitz, Paul Schmitz, and Madaline Trastek.

Reception Committee: made up of class officers, Elmer Queram, president, Rex John Jr., Vice-president, Willott Pitz, Secretary, and Arnold Gass, Treasurer.

Publicity Committee: Rex John Jr., chairman, and Louise Bovard.

Program Committee: Pearl Neuser, chairman, Shirley Axel, Herman McKenna, Deloris Schoblaska, and Amy Topic.

Invitation Committee: Florence Neuhaus, chairman, Marian Bull, Margaret Schladweiler, and Lois Johnson.

Refreshment Committee: Florence Wier, chairman, Charlotte Meany, Margaret Ploederl, Hermine Sachse, and June Stephani.

Check Room Committee: George Kaufman, chairman, Louis Cummings, Lester Teply, and Walter Schmidt.

Decoration Committee: Elmer Queram, chairman, Wilbur Abel, Elizabeth Barbeau, Marie Ceaglske, Reinhardt Dwyer, Mollie Endries, Ruth Ertz, Katherine Gretz, Arnold Gass, Bob Hamacheck, Ruth Hastings, Bob Hrudka, Grace Jens, Rex John, Virginia Kelley, Dorothy Knabe, Irma Koeninger, George Kost, Isabelle Leist, Bob McCambridge, Rudolph Menchel, Paul Mueller, Jimmy Milske, Ned Murphy, Charlotte Nelles, Bob O'Connor, Willot Pitz, Jean Shafer, Norman Staalson, Norbert Shimek, Bob Storms, Leonard Swiger, Valentine Tadych, Jane Urbanek, Dolores Wagner, Constance Weber, Elaine Wendorf, Ruth Weber, Margaret Watson, Howard Zable, and Paul Zechel.

GREENHOUSE SCENE OF CRUEL MURDER

MANITOWOC SMOTHERS GRIDIRON OPPONENTS IN HOMECOMING GAME

Celebration Features Football, Floats, Parade, Snake Dances, Prizes

The first homecoming in Manitowoc was held Friday and Saturday, November 3 and 4, amid much rejoicing.

The celebration was started Friday night with a parade featuring floats of the four classes of Lincoln High, of individual clubs, and civic organizations. The prize for the most original display was awarded by the Junior Chamber of Commerce,to the Sophomore class which carried away the honors with a float featuring a large gayly-covered robot.

The parade, which actually started at the appointed time, made its way to the bowl at L. H. S. where an immense bonfire was burning. "Jugo" Earpe, the famous football star, spoke to the eight thousand spectators and was a fitting introduction to the 'fiery oration' of Honorable Captain Eddie Ulovitz. (Ulta to you).

Many snake dancers made their way through the crowd, supposedly to the distraction of some of the older people who had come merely as spectators. After the celebration at the school, a large group of students formed a line of march going down Eighth street to storm the local theaters.

The all-important game, which proved successful for Manitowoc, was the greatest event in the successful program of the homecoming. The score to the great enjoyment of Manitowoc was 6–0. After our victorious pig-skin toters had upheld the tradition of the school, the trophy was presented, which it is Lincoln High's privilege to keep for one year.

After the glorious success, all went home, feeling that Homecoming was the success that was predicted for it.

SIMON WINS OVER MANY CONTESTANTS IN CLASS ORATORY

Before a crowd that jammed the auditorium on March thirteenth. George Simon won the interclass oratorical contest with his selection " 'Tis but a short span from puppy love to a dog's life". The subject was one of great weight and one upon which he was well qualified to speak. Mr. Simon held the audience spellbound by his wonderful oratorical powers. The other speakers and their subjects were:

Donald Dill—No matter how low a thermometer falls, it's never vulgar.

Richard Engel—Stand separately and fall, stand together and crash.

Reuben Glihsman — A bachelor never has any buttons on his shirts–a husband never has any shirts.

Arthur Haase—It is better to be silent and thought a fool, than to speak and remove the doubt.

Bob Hrudka—Anyone who thinks by the yard and talks by the mile ought to be moved by the foot.

Louis Cummings—Increased postage for your letters makes the local postmaster remark: "Three pennies for your thought".

Raymond Heise—By college bred, we mean a four year's loaf.

Elmer Queram—All is not peroxide that glitters.

Jack McCormick—The average man has only one woman but the iceman has his pick.

Connie McCambridge — I feel like a dumb owl because I just don't give a hoot.

SENIORS RECEIVE RECOGNITION FOR EXTRA ACTIVITIES

At a general assembly meeting held in the auditorium June 1, 1934, orange and red "M's" were awarded to all seniors who merited them because of work done in certain lines of endeavor, extra- curricular or otherwise. The following students received recognition:

Kathryn Barnstein–longest winded talker; Emil Beers–best dancer; Dean Boettcher–hardest worker along any line; Richard Engel – best stagehand since 1900; Gerald Ferguson–the record bluffer for four years; Violet Franke–prettiest angel hair; Ruth Wetenkamp–best little stay-at-home; Tim Egan–shortest little fellow; Gladys Kortens–most thrilling frog-voiced soprano; Anita Hansen–most popular member of the tardy room; Eli Gunnell–most faithful Romeo; Jean Braunel – the best gum chewer; Quirin Yindra–the crooner of the school; Frank Frieder–the man that never smiles; Virginia Stueber–the best blusher; Robert Koch–the youngest senior boy; Robert Randolph and Kennth Notz–best beginning swimmers; Billy Ohde–best punner; Gerald Peppard – most dependable student; Bill Schuette and Marion Randolph – the longest case on record; Jane Schroeder–the most timely measle case; Bernard Jansen–hero of all our dreams; Ed Ulovitz–Mama's own little boy; Robert Willot–most industrious senior; Earl White–most perfect permanent wave; Arlene Gaedke and Bob Gloe vied for the honor of being the typical chaperons.

BODY OF I. B. FROG FOUND BY CARETAKER IN SCHOOL PENTHOUSE

Detectives Accuse Snake of Poisoning Victim; Overcoat Only Clue

The Green House, a pent house on the fourth floor of Lincoln High School, was the scene of a most mysterious murder two months ago, in which Mr. I. B. Frog, a prominent citizen of Bugville, was killed. The body was found by Miss Frances Gates, caretaker of the Green House.

The body of Mr. Frog was found in evening attire, stretched out on the west lawn. Although it showed no signs of violence the face was screwed up into a ghastly appearance. Evidently Mr. Frog was aware of his murderer. Two very faint red marks were found on the back of his neck, and an autopsy showed that Mr. Frog was poisoned by a very rare South African poison.

Frog was a wealthy retired manufacturer of toadstools, mushrooms, and puffballs.

Miss Silver Goldfish, cook in his establishment, claims she heard angry voices in the library on the night that Mr. Frog was murdered, but she was unable to recognize the voices.

The only clue is a snake skin coat found a few feet from the body, presumed to have been left by Mr. Grass Snake, who, according to the valet of Mr. Frog, was the last person to leave the house on the night of the murder John Lizard, the butler, asserted that he did not receive Mr. Snake that evening. Therefore it is not known whether or not Snake was the angry visitor in the Frog library.

Snake is a resident at 307 Biology Avenue. He is affiliated with the Fish Hatchery of Detroit, Mich., and at the time of the murder was occupied with raising five hundred lake trout. He had been making a careful study of general science and kept a small box of poison in the desk drawer of his laboratory. Snake left his home the afternoon of the murder and has not been seen since.

Detectives Turtle and Turtle, who are working on the case, believe that all evidence points toward Snake as the criminal.

IN APPRECIATION

Four weeks of fourth periods, several nights after school in the tower and innumerable evenings at home were devoted to piece together this issue of FLY TOWER HASHES. Six people labored under the strain of nervous breakdowns, numbness of the brain, and cramped fingers, to turn out a paper that could be read in mixed company without blushes and coughs; to have a masterpiece that was serious and yet humoroys was serious and yet humorous.

The result of their labor is a job of which they may well be proud, a completed task which will remain in this school's history as a great milestone.

We wish at this time to pay small tribute to those who have given so unstintingly of both time and effort in turning out this "voice of the super-six".

In passing judgment on the results, pray, praise it and pronounce it a truly great piece of work. Express your appreciation of the wonderful specimens of literature scattered here and there. In consideration of the time, thoughts, energy, and wisecracks wasted, give credit where credit is due.

(Signed) THE STAFF.

Dean Boettcher will return to Manitowoc in two days. He spent three months visiting Mae West, and he will have many interesting things to tell us.

Miss Grace Plantico plans to stop in Manitowoc on her tour with Ben Bernie's orchestra. She will make one public appearance at the Capitol Theatre.

Mary Collins is leaving to make her future home on a Santa Fe Ranch in Mexico. She will be in the employ of the governor there, as head nurse at his private air field.

ODD OCCURRENCES AT LINCOLN HIGH BAFFLE R. RIPLEY

Subjects for Lincoln Ripley's "Believe it or Not" have been discovered in various nooks and crannies of the building during the past few weeks, and cartoonists are hard at work drawing sketches of the strange happenings.

The first strange occurrence was witnessed by a large body of students when Bill Schuette took out some girl other than Marion Randolph.

Then, after careful observation and calculation, wonderful to behold, a tiny curl was seen on the top of Mr. Norman's head.

Other unusual happenings were:-

During the year, Mr. Stevenson gave an easy English exam — Ada Bouril wore "spikes" to school—Dorothea Meyer came to school without red polish on her finger-nails —Clyde Miller didn't talk to Edith Benringer—Mr. Lindwall didn't put anybody in the tardy room—no one was absent on a Wednesday afternoon — Lillian Bruechert didn't get any A's on her report card—Bob Randolph couldn't swim a stroke in a recent swimming meet—Mollie Endries came to school with a permanent wave—Anita Hansen walked around with a frown on her face—Clifford McCabe didn't talk back to a teacher for a whole day–Ray Nichols' face didn't get red—"Dougie" Bannerman lost his freckles—Florence Drobka talked very slowly—Bob Gloe came to school with his hair dyed red —Joan Junek went about the halls shouting and whistling —Betty Norris wasn't full of the "d——s"— there were no students in Mr. Stevenson's room after school—Miss Albers forgot to "flunk" someone—Brad Sersnon stopped talking—Harry Grimm acted serious.

PARIS FASHIONS

Do you consider yourself among the well-dressed people of your set? Do you pay attention to every little detail of your appearance? For it's the details that count, you know. No, this isn't a questionnaire. I'm merely trying to discover whether or not you will be interested in this column. Well, if you are, just cast your eyes upon my suggestions as to what the well-wessed, rell dwessed—aw, what the smart woman will wear this spring.

Paris decrees that, to be distinctive, you must have at least one gown fashioned from "picture crepe." Now, don't get excited, I'll explain all in due time. First, take your very, very best photograph (probably if it's very good it won't resemble you a great deal, but take it anyway), then send this picture, with an order specifying the amount, grade, and color of the material, to your merchant, who will have it designed, with your picture reproduced many times on the material, varying the size and position of the pictures. Then, have it cut according to your favorite pattern, and there you have, Paris insists, the most distinctive frock of any.

ELEVEN TEACHERS SIGN TARDY BOOK FOR MISBEHAVIOR

Eleven members of our faculty were signed up for the tardy room during the past week because of their failure to live up to the agreements of the School Teachers' Code, recently adopted by a committee of students, under the guidance of chief executives of the N. R. A.

By a unanimous vote of the fifth period history class, Mr. Jones signed the dreaded book for five nights because he gave a test that was thoroughly unexpected.

Brad Sershon walked into room 221 the other day and found his English teacher 'hard at it' over a box of cough drops. Mr. Stevenson was promptly ordered to sign the book.

Harriet Pleuss gave Miss Webb two nights because she refused to allow students to have more gym excuses.

Tim Egan and Bob Gloe had Miss Batz sign her name to that little book for being so strict.

A teacher whose name we must withhold explained her presence in the tardy room by the fact that she marked Lillian Bruechert's report card with an A-.

Ada Bouril received a not-so-comic valentine from Miss Dolan, who paid the price by a choice seat in the tardy room.

Frank Frieder escorted Miss Albers to the office one report card day after he had been given a token of her esteem for him.

Even the freshmen exercise the spicy privilege of sending teachers to the tardy room as shown by a "youngster's case" being interrupted in the act of their daily stroll up second floor by one Mr. Zeran. The unlucky interrupter got the book for a month.

Harry Grimm paid off an old score with Mr. Anderson by conducting the tardy room the week the latter attended, because he prohibited the eating of chocolate bars in his class.

We knew George Boehm tap danced, and so we never suspected that he would make Mr. Winder sign the book for dancing down the halls one day when the coach was hittin' it up pretty fine.

Not to be outdone by his colleagues and contemporaries, Mr. Novitski strolled in but would offer no reason for his confinement.

In consideration of the strain on freshmen eyes, we will omit the blank verse.

UNITED THOUGH PARTED OR LOVERS TRUE

Chapter XXIII.

Jessamine saw her wicked foes approach in the distance. She stood speechless with horror for she feared she would never see Baxter again. However, with great presence of mind she called for him at the top of her delicate voice. The villainous chief and his murderous accomplice were about to throw our pretty blond heroine into the treacherous waters below.

Just then, in time to prevent the disaster, Bax Ever-ready rushed madly in upon the scene, breathing heavily from a remarkable ten mile run across the country. A few moments before he had been calmly smoking his homely old corn-cob in front of the Seville grocery store, when suddenly he heard the word "Bax" coming clearly and frantically out of the ether.

With the remarkable intuition with which lovers are so often gifted, he at once knew that his sweetheart, the lovely Jessamine, was in dire distress. He started up and blindly followed where instinct led him and in six "flat" had reached the side of his darling. He gathered the shattered remains of his Herculean strength together and clasped her to his heart, at the same time gorgonizing the vituperous reptiles by his cold and scornful eye. Then drawing his 38 pop gun from his shirt bosom—

GERDA HEMPEL CRASHES RANKS OF FAMOUS FILM STARS

Gerda Hempel, Lincoln High senior, left yesterday for Hollywood, California, where she will be employed as an extra at the Warner Brothers Studio.

Miss Hempel came to Manitowoc from Tennessee in her junior year after having come from Germany. She expected to graduate with the class of 1934, but her ambition to join the ranks of filmdom led her to attempt a career as a star in Hollywood.

WEATHER REPORT

The weather will remain this week and the atmosphere will continue to be filled with air. The weather will be fair among the "A" students but it will be partly cloudy in the tardy room. Rain is probable in the natatorium. There will be some vacuum pressure felt in the region of the freshmen homerooms, but nothing will result from it. Fair to middling.

STUDENT VOCABULARY

1. A—the grade we would all like to get.
2. after-dinner speaker — one who eats a lot of food he doesn't want.
3. alike—adjective applied to test papers which come from neighbor students.
4. antiques—new furniture which the children have played on.
5. appendicitis—a common affliction at L. H. S.
6. author—the queerest animal in the world because his tale comes out of his head.
7. bathing suit—a costume with no hooks on it, but usually plenty of eyes.
8. breath—that which you cannot hold ten minutes although it is as light as a feather.
9. brevity—a relief when applied to a speech; a failing, or cause for a failing in a test.

MAY FROLIC IS GREAT SUCCESS

Profit of $13.03 to Be Used For Equipment

The May Frolic, given last month by a group of ambitious and considerate boys, was a great success. It netted the school a profit of thirteen dollars and three cents, which will be used to buy swimming suits and ping-pong balls for the school.

The lads taking part in the festival included Ray Nicnols, queen; Charles Krumm and Jack Holsen, maids of honor; and Tim Egan and Bob Stiefvater, flower girl and page, respectively. There was also a committee which took charge of the sale of refreshments.

Because of the enthusiasm shown in this event, the first of its kind to take place in our fair city, it is hoped that it can be made an annual institution.

SASSIETY NOTES

The Bell of the Hall — from rumors she rings too often and out of tune.

The N. A. C., a group of young men united for the sole purpose of improving their hours of leisure. The next meeting will be led by President Nichols, on the subject of Temperance. Refreshments always consist of milk and toast. "We are the boys of the institute."

The All-School Hops, held at the gym, were so well attended that the faculty is considering hiring the armory for similar events in the future. Naturally, the music will be furnished by the forms of artillery, and if there are any chaperons present—Bing! Bing! or should I say Bomb! Bomb!

During the months of January and February, John Gosz was seemingly having a continuous appendicitis operation. He has the best wishes of the faculty for a speedy recovery.

Miss Mary Jane Hamilton deserves praise for accomplishing a great undertaking in her senior year; she made her Mark.

This has been an unusual year for debutantes; the girls have been coming out with Alice in Wonderlands, braids, initials, and their boyfriends' class rings as usual.

Deah! Deah! They say the Hi-Y meetings were very successful this year—Amen.

The school quartette, composed of Jerry, "Daddy Long Legs", Ferguson, Charles "Barrister" Brady, Bill "Punner" Ohde, and Charles "Buddy" Sutter, serenaded two local boys at the police station on Halloween night, sometime last October, when the latter were being held there because of a complaint of disorderly conduct.

In the midst of the crooners' favorite ballad, "How Dry I Am", two and one-half pitchers of water fell on their heads to make them change their tune. The water was equally divided among them.

PERSONALS

Miss Evelyn Augustine will arrive in New York on June 3rd. She has been traveling in Europe for the past two years. During her absence she became the wife of Mahatma Ghandi. We wonder if she has adopted his form of attire.

Mr. Charles Sindelar returned from Chicago. He has gained much popularity at the Stevens Hotel where he and his orchestra "The Hooters" have just finished their engagement.

John Gosz left for New York with his Cato Tech basketball team. They are going to play at the Winter Gardens.

George Dick was presented with a national award for teaching his favorite fish, Gracia, to dance.

ATHLETIC LINCOLNITES COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL SEASON IN EVERY FIELD

Five Candidates report for basketball; excellent material for track, football and jig — saw puzzles

Lincoln High has just completed a successful year in athletics. In every field, the red and white has downed its opponents or has been downed. A brief review of the great Lincoln victories follows:

BASKETBALL

Five candidates reported for the team and they all made the squad It was a very peculiar season, in that Lincoln High won all her games by one point. Yes, every game was forfeited. The opposing team always refused to play when the local giants galloped out on the floor. The season's line-up was as follows:

Sylvester Barbeau–r. f.
Douglas Bannerman–l. f.
Robert Koch–c.
Billy Nuhs–r. g.
Earl Peronto–l. g.

DOMINOES

The domino team did some fine work this season. Three games were played with the Home for Absent-minded Professors and the locals were victors twice. The team consists of Raymond Nichols, Clifford McCabe, Rex John and Willot Pitz. These men trained faithfully all year and deserve great credit for these victories.

FOOTBALL

Thirteen and one-half candidates reported for the first practice. The grandstand and bleachers were overflowing and after a day of hard work, the squad was both cut down and cut up.

The season opened with Fish Creek High School as the opponent of the Red and White team. It was a great game, won only in the final seconds of play by a sensational, one-half yard run by Mary Jane Phipps. Mary Fetzer played a fine game at center, while the work of Ada Bouril at tackle was nothing short of spectacular.

This game gave the team a victorious record for the year as all the other games were cancelled.

Mary Jane Phipps–r. e.
Ada Bouril–r. t.
Virginia Brixius–r. g.
Mary Fetzer, c .
Helen Ward–l. g.
Charlotte Zahorik–l. t.
Helen Koepsel–l. e.
Elda Ohm–q. b.
Jean Braunel–l. h. b.
Arlene Gaedke–r. h. b.
Mary Ann Kellner–f. b.
Referee–Mr. Jones
Cheer Leader–Louis Wernecke
Water Boy–Bob Gloe.

TRACK

There is some excellent material in Lincoln High. The stars of the track events during the year were as follows:

2 Mile hot air
—Paul Koritzinsky
Standing broad-grin
—Mark Soden
Half Mile Think
—Douglas Bannerman
125 Yd. hair-raiser
—Robert Fargo
220 Yd. Clash (tie)
—Harold Kirkevold and Paul Krainik
16 lb. Hot shot
—Charles Brady
Bluffing High Jump
—Gerald Ferguson

In one of the most exciting tests of an athlete's endurance ever witnessed at Lincoln High School, a senior made a record-breaking broad jump. He had been in training for 9 years with an especially suitaable course of work before he came here. While a great crowd watched with bated breath, the student jumped from tne freshman class to graduation in sixteen years.

JIG-SAW PUZZLES

The jig-saw team was a newly organized group this year. The members included Clyde Miller, Elmer Queram, Gordon Johnson, and Oscar Johnsrud. The first game was to be played against the insane asylum quartette, but was called off when the mascot of the opposing team chewed up five precious pieces of the puzzle. The other games were also called off because of the fact tnat no puzzle could be found which was hard enough for our brilliant team.

FACULTY TO PLAY FINALS IN TENNIS

Ping-Pong

Finals for the singles in the faculty ping-pong games will be played off some dreary day next May in the cafeteria where practice matches have been held with the use of cups rather than balls, because the latter were burned among old football helmets. Those who will take part are Mr. Jones, Mr. Norman, Mr. Erickson, Mr. Brown, Miss Albers, Miss Tompkins, Miss Strathearn, Miss Bennett, Miss Batz and Miss Dolan.

The doubles tournament started last May with the participants playing the first set of games on Tuesday. Strange to say, each participant won his match and the referees feel that there are shady dealings taking place.

The Faculty Has Arrived

CRAZY DAIZZIES BACK FROM AFRICA AFTER SIX MONTHS

The C. D. C.'s commonly known as the famous "Crazy Daizzy Commission" have just returned from a recent trip to Africa, where the members, Dorothy King, Violet Franke, Ethel Mathieu, and Ruth Maresh, spent six months living in the jungles.

Many exciting things took place while the commission was on the expedition.

Ruth Maresh fell in love with a triple-lipped native whom she brought back in a cage.

Many valuable and unique souvenirs were collected by the girls, such as, a pet monkey, by Dot King, after a ferocious hand-to-hand combat; Hallie Stiefvater, a lion's tooth that she had extracted one day for her daily good deed; and others such as grass skirts, tom-toms, skulls, skins and zebras.

When the girls arrived at Two Rivers, Africa, they made their way down the treacherous Bloody Bones River in a raft of their own craftsmanship of lingerie and powder puffs. They proceded bravely until they reached the first native village, where they were indeed a sensation. The citizens of the village known as Snake Bites, led by their chief, Stale Meat, came down to the shore and gave the Daizzys a royal welcome at the point of spears that almost drove them craizzy after their own name.

The Snake Bites insisted on keeping Violet Franke for a priestess and to be Stale Meat's wife, while the others were to be later consumed at a banquet. After clever thinking on the part of the whole commission, they escaped with only a few bruises.

Their trip home was equally exciting. Ethel Mathieu jumped overboard, with the intentions of swimming home. Ruth Maresh was put into solitary confinement; Violet Franke married one of the deck hands; Dot King, Hallie Stiefvater, and Bunny Egan tied up the captain and ran the old boat to suit themselves.

Employment Wanted

Position as drummer in an orchestra. Can furnish A-1 references.

NICHOLS PRAISES N. A. C.

"High School Elite Graduate From Nichols' Athletic Club" Says Ray

"Yah, if you want to get anywhere in this school, you want to join the Nichols' Athletic Club," said Ray Nichols, passing out a bit of free advertising with a sly wink.

"We'll make a man of you. Look at me. I weighed one hundred pounds when I came here and had a chest expansion of twenty inches. Now I weigh one hundred and eighty pounds and have a chest expansion of sixty inches. We are the Hercules bunch; athletics is our main hobby. We play everything from dominoes to football. We combine our class room work and track. We're good at jumping classes, hurdling programs, and sprinting from books. You come here to develop physically as well as mentally. That's our motto."

"Yah, we also think that one can get more out of education by mixing a little social life with the books. Now when it comes to parties and dances, we got 'em all wiped off the earth. There never was a dance known to be pulled off in this burg without one of us being there. For real fun in high school, join us. Oh yes, we do go to classes. We have introduced a new method of attending classes. Entirely original! You see, we organize a relay team and take turns going to classes. One of us represents the whole bunch. Good method! We don't all have to get up and the one who has to run the relay can't go out the night before. Regular system here! It's much more convenient."

"Sometimes we amuse ourselves over week-ends with spelling bees and knowledge contests. I'm sure you would enjoy that. And you'll certainly get a royal welcome if you join the Nichols' Athletic Club. And anyway, we need new members. So long till the next membership drive."

Class of 1934, take heed! Next year the worries begin. Here's what you'll be saying.

He: If the dean doesn't take back what he said, I'm gonna' leave.

She: What'd he say?
He: You're expelled.

Dear Studes: Have you heard the one about the laborer yelling, during a quarrel, "You leave Mae West's name outa' this." Hm! what chivalry!

HEAR YE!

A bit of good advice for all ye would-be peaceful citizens. Employ 60% of your time in tending to your own business and 40% in letting other people alone and you'll get in very little trouble.

A CALENDAR OF THE YEAR'S EVENTS

SEPTEMBER

5—School begins today and it's kinda good to be back with the old gang again. Seniors already start showing authority.

18—Real treat for us—the Tamboritza Entertainers give a novelty program of song and dance.

23—Manitowoc wins first football game with Menasha and Schuette receives injury which puts him out of the lineup for the season.

24—Seniors elect Bill Schuette president.

OCTOBER

5—Russ Hamachek will pilot the sophs.

7—In the pouring rain we beat Marinette.

12—Another interesting auditorium program—Julius Caesar Nayphe lectures on the wonders of the Orient.

14—West Green Bay hogs the pigskin for a win. And how!

21—Louise Bovard is elected secretary-treasurer of the Fox River Valley Press Association in a convention at Sheboygan. Delegates enjoy a rainy outing.

28—Appleton beats Manitowoc here. The team's got the blues again.

30—Hallowe'en pranks prove disastrous for some, but boys will be boys—even though they be seniors!!

NOVEMBER

2-4—Mr. Stangel is elected president of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association. More honors for Lincoln High.

2—We have a gala parade and bonfire in honor of the impending homecoming game. Eddie was a little warm but not from the fire!

4—Big homecoming game and we make a waffle out of Two Rivers on the gridiron. Score: 6-0. P. S. Two Rivers' is the little round one.

6—We guys begin our Flambeau drive.

10—Armistice program presented in auditorium.

11—In our last football game, Sheboygan ties us 7-7. Did you notice Miss Stangel's ring?

14-15—Flambeau group pictures taken by Glander's

17—Pep dance. The benefits are going to buy the cheerleaders new uniforms. How did you like the girls' football team?

28—Seniors take intelligence tests today. Probably with dire results for some with such answers as: Columbus' motto was "More miles on a galleon."

29—Charlotte Randolph wins declamatory contest. Shirley Axel wins second place, Charlotte Ann Richberg third, and Madaline Trastek fourth.
Doc Spears and two of his football stars are present for awarding of letters.
Banquet is given at K. C.

30—Thanksgiving play given by the Dramatic Club. What a lover Paul Koritzinsky turns out to be!

DECEMBER

4—Basketball opens with Valders and we lose. Too bad. Lady Luck must be bashful.

8—The music students get free passes to a recital given by Rabinoff.

11—Dr. Carpenter lectures on the heavens.

14—Musical program given by bands, orchestra, and chorus.

15—Manitowoc beats Oshkosh in our first conference game. Good start! Juniors sponsor an all-school dance. Was your face red, Shirley Nelson, when you fell!

19—The faculty may be good, but we're better—in basketball.

20—Interclass swimming meet. Seniors try out for class play.

23—Miss Ruddock prefers matrimony to the peace and quiet of the library. We'll miss her.

JANUARY

8—It isn't so bad to return to a freshly painted school. Miss Haight is sporting a sparkling diamond. Cupid has kept himself busy at Lincoln this year!

12—Marinette meets their Waterloo here.

18—Emil Beers falls asleep in history class.

22—Bob Randolph falls asleep in history too. Maybe this is a strike for shorter hours. Well, luck to them. Sixty minutes always did seem too long for an hour.

23—Say, what is this? Dean Boettcher falls asleep too! We'd suggest that they sleep nights.

Our bad luck in basketball begins with Two Rivers winning. It was kinda hard to take.

26—West Green Bay beats us 13-12. Accidents will happen.

FEBRUARY

2—Senior class play, "Broken Dishes," Don't Charlotte and Jerome make a sweet couple? Dates go to Two Rivers after the play.

5—Big sleighride. Ask Ruth Isselman how she enjoyed her walk.

9—We beat Two Rivers in a swimming meet, and as the poet says, "Revenge is sweet."

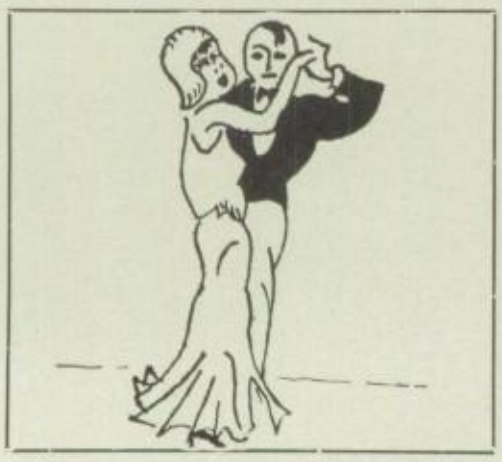
10—Eli Gunnell gives a party.

14—Candy hearts, flowers, and sentimental Valentines take feminine minds from their books today, but all the world loves a lover, so teachers were a little forgiving.

16—Overheard at the sophomore dance: He: "I could dance on like this forever.." She: "Oh, don't say that; you're bound to improve."
16—Manitowoc beats Marinette 27-10.—another feather in our caps.
23—Manitowoc beats West Green Bay. We fooled 'em this time. In a game it's grit. In spinach it's terrible.
Manitou comes out. Prizes awarded in auditorium to winners of literary contest.

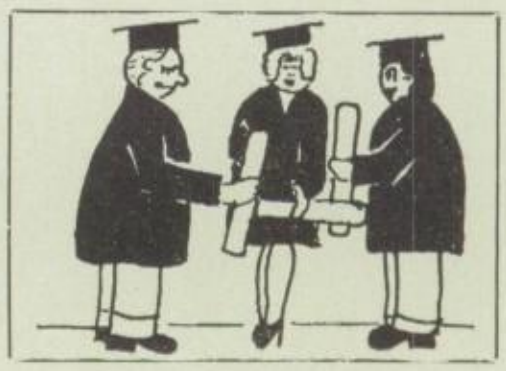
MARCH

3—Bob Randolph wins third in state back stroke race.
5—Alonzo Pond and Dr. Ganfield speak.
6—Elmer Queram names Deloris Schoblaska as his queen.



7—Juniors get their rings. Funny how some change hands so quickly.
9—Last basketball game and Appleton's champs use us as a victim.
15—George Simon and Bob Stiefvater win oratory contest. Well, some men are orators—others have wives.
15—Jerry Ferguson wins in extempore. All of which goes to show that practice in the art of bluffing makes perfect.
16—Juniors challenge the seniors to a basketball game and go down in ignominious defeat. Tsk! Tsk!
22—All classes are reseated in the auditorium—some little cliques and duos broken up.
23-24—Lincoln speakers go to Ripon to see what they can talk themselves into. Madaline, George, and Jerry hang on till semi-finals.

APRIL



1—Anybody fool ya?
5—George wins third in oratory at Oshkosh.
16—Jeanette Kling tells us how to have personality, and then we proceed to use ours on the fellow next to us at the Publication Staffs' banquet.
18—First College Day—nine representatives interview prospective students and their parents.

MAY

11—Juniors present rollicking comedy, "You're Telling Me." We've got to admit they were good.
Manitou gets All-American rating from National Scholastic Press Association. Did you see the big grin on Editor Ohde's face?
18—Band wins its second state championship at music tournament in Green Bay.

JUNE

8—Famous last words: (Frosh)—"Junior Prom? What is it?" And so on far into the night.
13—Senior graduation in the football bowl. A day long anticipated becomes a reality at last!

DEAR DIARY —

JUNE 1st, 1950—Walked up Main street today. Met Georgie Gibbs, just as tall and slim as ever. Has a barber shop all his own now—said he cuts Bob Fargo's locks, almost every day (Bob's his assistant). Picked up a little news about others who once put their brains to work at old Lincoln High—Marion Houghton is a night club hostess down in Peoria. Harriet Pleuss is her attractive blues singer and there's a grand floor show featuring Johnny Zimdar, M. C. and the music of MacDonald Wood. Also heard that Marie Coffin has married a magician in India. Walked a little farther and entered Victor Nielsen's Build-Up Athletic Club. He was demonstrating calisthenics to his most apt pupil, David Walling, who still is struggling to rise in the professional baseball field—Through the sky-light I saw Earl White polevaulting over the Empire State Building—That was only a slight shock compared to visiting Everett Pope in his executive offices at the National Bank, of which he is president—After the shock of his success, I had to come home to sleep it off.

JUNE 2nd, Still sleeping.

JUNE 3rd, Woke up sorta' dazed so I decided to take a swim at the Y. M. C. A. on the corner. Ada Bouril is president of it. Sophie Bregges and Jean Braunel were in the pool, relaxing from their strenuous duties as chaperons to two society belles, Inez Dorsch and Ann Suchomel. Jean invited me to the ball in honor of the young debutante, Mary Fetzer. Found out it's tomorrow night, so rushed right down to Edith Allger's Fifth Avenue shop. My, but she was busy. First a suit for Evelyn Augustine to wear on her honeymoon tour in Europe. She's married to Emil Beers, the successful automobile manufacturer. But getting back to Madamoiselle Allger's Modiste Shop, George Dick, the successful commercial artist, and his model, Marion Frieder, were getting pointers. Genevieve Clark Brady was fitting a dress for the same ball I'm going to. She's going with hubby Charles, who's become a big lawyer in some little town out west. Finally ordered a dress upon the recommendation of Marion Toebe, one of the clerks. Had tea at the socially prominent Gloes, Robert and the former Violet Franke. Went to dinner with Oscar Johnsrud, who's the best one to do nothing much of anything you ever saw. Came home at 12:30.

JUNE 4th, My birthday today. Got a card from my brother-in-law, Eli Gunnell, who's turned miserly and used only a penny stamp. My old pal Rita Karnofsky, the greatest magician of all times, sent me a rabbit. (Heck). The note inclosed said she took it from my glove, but I doubt it. All my presents were disappointments except the gold watch I got from Billy Ohde. Billy has been promoted at last and now is a cub reporter on the Two Rivers paper. Didn't do much of anything today except go to the show with Mary O'Connor. She runs a ritzy hotel here. Surprised to find Betty Norris and Margery Kuplic chambermaiding there.

JUNE 5th, It's Sunday today. Reverend Harold Lindemann informs all his parishioners of this fact by penny postcards, minus the stamp. Josephine Behnke sat directly in front of me with a new green hat. The bakery business must be prospering. After church she was walking with Russell Brazzale, who pays for all the deficits in her business. I really don't know where he gets all the money. I went home and wrote letters. Wrote to Pauline Gretz, who's the official buyer in the children's department of the Cash and Carry store on 65th street in Two Rivers. Oscar Dick was privileged with a letter because he sells his baking to our family at a discount. Then I typed a letter to Edward Donahue, who has become the world's best writer. Dined with Gerald Ferguson, principal of East High, whom I tried to enveigle a position out of. He refused; said that Gerald Peppard could take care of all the teaching necessary in his school. He told me that Frank Bonk is an interne at the Holy Family Hospital and that there's a raft of pretty nurses. Rhoda Ann Ziesler, Dorothea Meyer, Irma Nack, Eleanor Wilhelm, Ruth Wetenkamp, and Evangeline Orth. Those girls were always good at cutting up. Later I went to the theatre and saw "The Visible Man" starring Gordon Johnson and Gerda Hempel. I heard Milton Kaufmann is head of the company that produced it. He has a swell roster of stars too. Grace Loeffler, Mary Jane Hamilton, and Verona Gustman; Mary Ann Kellner, Jermaine Grun and Bill Nuhs are his character actors. After the show we went to the corner store which Agnes O'Malley and her fiance, Harvey Lippert run.

JUNE 6th, Made all my plans for the trip to Europe. Hope to see Helen Koepsel, who has become one of Mahatma Ghandi's followers. We leave in six days on the Equator. Elwood Krueger is captain of the ship's crew. Paul Koritzinsky and Albert Zagrodnik are deck hands, and the chef is none other than Harlan Wehrwein. Met Kathryn Barnstein today. She isn't very satisfied with her job at the agency, because she is only the 8th vice president. Got all packed to leave for New York tomorrow. My maid, Julia Duben, was at the fight and couldn't help so I had to do it alone. Had visitors this afternoon, Lillian Brueckert and Ruby Kuecker. They are joint proprietors of a millinery shop. Pretty hats they sell, too. I guess they must offer pretty stiff competition to Helen Ward's chapeaus, because she's going out of business. The evening paper had some depressing news tonight. Reuben Glihsmann has gone bankrupt in his beauty parlor.

JUNE 7th, Am on the train for New York and Broadway (Whoopee). Daniel Dempski, the little porter always walks up and asks if we need anything. Everytime I say no he looks so downhearted. Poor lad!! Alex Derus was on the train—Going to Yale where he coaches the varsity gridiron men. Donald Dill sat down a few seats ahead. He's taking his dogs to the flea circus in Albany. They are under the express care of Deane Boettcher, who combs their hair, etc. We three were the only people on the train, I guess, except Christopher Burg, the conductor, and Cliff MacCabe, the engineer. Got to New York about 11 and traveled around looking for a boarding house. Teresa Dornaus gave us a nice room with hot water and breakfast.

JUNE 8th. Slept till 12:30, then went to the museum. The keeper, William Crowe, told me not to touch things but I put a bone of a dinosaur in my pocket and borrowed it. The scrub ladies, Jean Arnold and Olive Boeder saw me, but for five cents promised not to squeal. My friend, Victor Baumann, the mayor of New York, and Edith Behringer, Secretary of War, took me to meet Helen Blazek and Carl Bolle, who have become the queen and king of the skies.

JUNE 9th and 10th, Walked and walked all of two days. Met a lot of old Lincolnites who wear themselves out in this wide world of work and worry. Thomas Braasch, who has gray hair and athletes' foot; Mary Lina Albano, with drawing and dresses her specialty; Ellen Eberhardt, shopping for her trousseau for her marriage to Raymond Nichols, the Fleishmann Yeast salesman; Margaret Birkholz, who surprised everyone and married one of her old teachers.

JUNE 11th, Going to a Civic Music Program I was surprised and delighted to find some of my old pals stars of the evening. They were Olga Brazzale, Harriet Chermak, Joe Brennan, Erna Haupt, Kurth Grainger, and Bernard Jansen. Went backstage and found Richard Engel still playing with lights; Elmer Spaeth was pulling the curtain back and forth; saw Olga Brazzale's personal maid, Alice Menge, slinging paint around on her mistress's toe-nails. Charles Krumm was interviewing the director, Tim Egan, who, with his wife, Marion Mlada, has been comparatively successful. His protege, Priscilla Moore, was the star of the evening. She was attired in a 1960 bathing creation of Elda Ohm's, one of the world's best designers.

JUNE 12th, Today I took an excursion trip to Coney Island. The first thing I saw was Phil Miles selling hot dogs, with Jane Schroeder cutting the onions. Mark Soden was cracking iron planks for a two-bits cigar. As I wandered down the Avenue I saw many interesting things, chief among which was the Burlesque Show, owned and operated by Bradford Sershon. His popular cast consisted of Winifred Schrimpf, Marion Randolph, Orvel Traurig, Virginia Stueber and Jack Stock, who was playing tunes on a comb. Packed my baggage and sent my steamer trunks to the pier with Lester Stauss, the taxi-driver. On the way he was rudely stopped by Edward Ulovitz, the cop. Thinking that it was a fight, Douglas Bannerman ran up and finished it with his famous four and a half inch drive. Later Robert Borcherdt, the street cleaner, pawned the gold tooth he found in the road at Bob Koch's pawnshop. Anyway, my trunks got there after a vigorous inspection by the customs official, Anthony Gospodarek. Let my cat out and went upstairs.

JUNE 13th, Oh joy of joys! We're on the ship! We're off! As I looked over the crowd at the pier I saw Marion Baird, who has taken over the controlling interest in J. P. Morgan and Co. and Russell Bartelme, whose name was linked with King Albert's fall about 15 years ago. As I turned around, I saw Clarence Strodthoff and Marie Schurr, who are Mr. and Mrs. now. Elton Baruth was doing an oil painting of the water, but I can't understand why he should use oil on the H20. Helen Andres and Ernest Barger were promenading the deck, eating apples as of old. He never would buy peanuts. Leisurely lying in a steamer chair, Erma Kotche informed us that she was a grass widow, her husband, Charles Sindelar, having decided that single blessedness was preferable. He always used to help me and Florence Drubka with our algebra. Now Florence is the chief mathematician on Wall Street. When we leaned over the railing, whose brown heads should we see swimming along with the boat, but Kenneth Notz's and Bob Randolph's. On being asked why they didn't come aboard, they yelled, "No money, no boatride." It seems they're planning to attempt the English Channel. But at that moment we heard a plop and in went Helen Cherny, who wanted to keep them company. She always was a good one for keeping company. The life-guard Joe Stodola, pulled her up and a hot cup of tea put her in fine shape. Went below to our staterooms, where Celestine Budnik, the ship's detective, was searching for a valuable penny. It was found in Althea Burkhart's traveling bag, much to that lady's consternation. This afternoon Adeline Busse, while doing her reducing exercises, sprained her ankle, which was the first case for the ship's doctor, Roland Heinz, but not the last. He was assisted by his nurse, Alice Niemann. Shortly after, there was a rush call to the medical department, when the wife of Vincent Halverson, Virginia Franz, took a nab out of a life saver, thinking it was candy. This extra case caused the doctor to call on his assistant, Eugene Gerbinsky, who held the patient down while the saver was being punctured.

JUNE 14th, Today Rose Marie Zaczek and Victor Fidler were married by the captain. The attendants were: Virginia Brixius, Lorraine Boeldt, Sylvester Barbeau, and Harold Heise. The ring bearer was Ruth Treick, and the flower girl was Lila Dufek. At a dance later, I saw Arthur Heinrichs, Alvin Hager, Julia Gospodarek, Ruth Goetz, Clarice Gilmet, Milton Hansen, Elroy Stueck, and Paul Surfus. Refreshments were served by the private servants, Albert Jacobi and Alma Harms.

JUNE 15th, An art exhibition was the main topic today. It was the work of Florence Bleichwehl. Then there was a general race to the tennis courts (nobody killed) to witness the tournament games. The main match was between Mary Reddin and her strongest rival, Nathan Feldman. Among the falls and injuries, the only one damaged to any extent was Edmund Ellestad who was accidentally stumbled into. Vivian Fritsch, considered by some the best dressed woman in Paris, was a little juggled and her garments slightly ripped as she reclined "piecefully" in her deck chair, when a burly sailor, Arthur Haese, dropped a life boat on her. That which remained was carried to her cabin by Edward Gosz, where her personal maid, Joan Junek, tried to put her together.

JUNE 16th, Only one more day and I will be flitting along the streets of Paris. Today I received a telegram from Nick Jagemann, the captain of the dog-catchers in New York, telling me that my old friend Geraldine Higgins and her husband Harold Kirkevold were building a glass house on a hill. Katy Heffernan is more than enthused over the first mate, George Hardrath. The greatest thrill of the day was the discovery of three stowaways, Marie and Martha Jacoboski and Phyllis Heise. They were concealed in the cook's boudoir, and hoped to sway Europe as mannequins in a style shop. They were put under the guard of the matron, Ann Marie Fetzer, who took them on the third class deck for exercise. Now I must go to rest—ah, pardonez moi, please, a rap on my door—hello again—it was the captain's messenger, Gordon Halverson, who delivered flowers that Count Lester Mittnacht was kind enough to send. My flirtations must have helped.

JUNE 17th, Paris and beautiful clothes! The first person I met here was Florence Fabera, who makes beautiful creations for the Empress of Japan. She took me to see Anita Hansen and Margaret Fishbeck, who are foreign correspondents for the Newton News. Anita has cultivated a grand French accent under the tutelage of Olivia Kawalle. Her studio is above Woolworth's in Paris. Myra Kassner sells nail polish and shoe strings there and Charles Kaderabek manages it. Everybody's busy, even Edmund Johansen who is a popular floorwalker. We left the store and walked along till we came to a sidewalk cafe owned by Marie Fricke. Marion Ellig was in there weeping because her pedigreed dog had been killed. During our reminiscences, the fire truck dashed by with Raymond Langer driving, and Norman Kubsch bumming a ride as usual.

JUNE 18th, Going to Rome tomorrow so I got my last glance at Paris. Was surprised to see Norbert Kustka jerking a soda for Angeline Liebert. Helen Kierig came over to study last year, but Robert Madson caught her eye. Gladys Kortens is taking voice lessons, preparatory to joining the Monday Music Club. I called her up, but she was too busy teaching her parrot to talk, to speak to me. She told me she was going to return it to Adrian Knox's pet shop because the parrot had too large a vocabulary of blue streaks.

JUNE 19th, Heard that His Majesty Cyrillius Millerius has been elected advisor to Mussolini. I wonder if Cyril polevaults over the palace. He has six Swiss bodyguards who are said to be big and strong as giants: Ellsworth Klug, Howard Kuecker, Francis Lallensack, Frank Massman, Irvin Mrotek, and Roy Newlin seem to be doing all right. The only casualty so far has been that Floyd Menzel was rudely evicted from the grounds after he had made a pass at Violet Nespor's dog. Mildred Miller wrote me a letter inviting me to her domain, the cooks' pantry. I guess I'll go, 'cause she and her assistant Esther Mielke always could bake good cakes. Passed Elroy Nass who was selling magazines.

JUNE 20th, Saw the ruins of the Coliseum, Pantheon, Temple of Apollo and Hubert Konopacki today. Hubert was among the ruins of the former, and I guess the guards, Edward Partenski and Earl Peronto, mistook him for a Grecian agitator named Francis Schroedl. The nervous guards took a few "pot shots" at him but he'll recover, much to his embarassment. Down near the temple of Apollo, I saw a tiny attractive cosmetic shop—naturally I went to investigate my discovery and guess—here was Ursula Baugniet trying to make ugly people beautiful. She is quite firmly established since her last product was such a success on the market, but then you can't make Mae Wests out of monkeys. Miss Baugniet's employees give beautiful permanents. If you don't believe me ask Chester Tuesburg and Mildred Rugowski. Down near the Pantheon is a beautiful private hospital for disabled aviators, (the best looking) which is capably superintended by Mary Collins. I ate too many olives today, but so did Gertrude Schellin, so we're even. Only thing is, hers didn't cost as much because she sells them.

JUNE 21st, I thought it would be funny if I didn't get into trouble soon. We journeyed into Venice and on the way I accidentally tripped Mussolini, who was proudly promenading with Mae Schurr. He had me arrested and I was taken before the Triumvirate in Rome, Bob Stiefvater, Violet Sobieski, and Oliver Tollefson. They were all for a short end, but luckily I discovered my old pal, June Healy, who is one of the most successful lawyeresses in Europe; to get back to the sunrise popping, she saved me the trouble. She has just divorced Mildred Loritz and Melvin Schulz; the new prospect for Mel is Pauline Kustka. Tonight Clyde Miller overturned the gondola that Clifford Trottier was in. He was serenading Germaine Meyer. The party was rather wet.

JUNE 22nd, Gosh are we traveling and am I getting plump? Well, anyway it doesn't matter because on my return to Paris I will stop at Ruth Lorenz's Fat-Off-Shop. They say she can relieve you of ten pounds a day. Took a little hop into Germany today and stopped at the tourist camp owned by Florence McCulley and Marcella Lukes. Edwin Shimon, Ruth Swette, Ethel Mathieu, and Herman Neuser were the only ones there that I knew. In Berlin, I saw Dorothy Ligman and John Shuber; they've been living there since their marriage; seem to be quite happy but you never can tell about these marriages. Ruth Maresh dropped in at the hotel.

JUNE 23rd, Myrtle Knutson, Gertrude Thiele, and I went to a big museum on the Rhine. What a joint! There sure were some funny specimens. They had pictures of Lorraine Kluck pushing Vivian Koutnik on a bucky donkey. We saw a sample of Greta Garbo's shoes. Quite a novelty. Her feet must be bigger than Bill Schuette's, the dairy man. Say I heard that he buys all his cows from Florence Kochan, whose husband, Hugo Shimek, owns a pound. Well anyway, at the museum Adeline Klemish was staring at a dinosaur and to her astonishment, it began to move. The guard was called and it proved to be Dorothy King in disguse. She had procured the get-up from Dorothy Kleman's costume shop. Miss King took us to the masquerade with her. It was the coming-out ball for Vergene and Veronica Orth, after fifteen years of solitude. Mary Jane Phipps and Roy Raether were Columbine and Pierrot. Edwin Roepke was an insect while his lovely partner, Evelyn Saduske, was Marie Antoinette. Had a grand time at the ball.

JUNE 24th, Came home around 6:30 today. The Morning Star says that Marjorie Smith, James Schneider, and Henry Pleuss met with an auto accident on their return journey and were removed to the St. Joseph's hospital where Mary Rugowski and Naomi Plinske are ministering to their injuries. Their chauffeur, Mary Jane Trippler, must feel pretty bad about the incident, or was it accident? She claims she didn't see the approaching vehicle, but the other driver, Ruth Peronto, said she had one light on and if she couldn't see that, her license might as well be taken away. Damages ran up to $5.51 outside of injuries to all occupants, Marion Schroeder, the insurance agent, claims that her company can't meet the amount.

JUNE 25th, To top off our stay in Rome we went to an American night club where (surprise of surprises) my dearest friend, Bernice Egan, was singing popular songs and doing the cutest dance. Gee she's good! I hear she sings on the Randolph Radio Station. Charlotte's doing all right as she always has, with Raymond Zimmer as vice president.

JUNE 26th, Stopped for gas at Leila Schaefer's gas station and she told us we could get a good meal at Raymond Vogel's house a little farther on where he and his wife Violet Potratz live as quiet peasants. Hallie Stiefvater uses one of their rooms where she writes her best-sellers.

JUNE 27th, Today I got my first glimpse of Spain, where Libby Sindelar invited us to a bull fight. The main fights were between the bulls and Arnold Ozga and Clement Porkorski. The battle was a bloody accomplishment that neither of the contestants will ever forget. Three of the spectators fainted, Jane Specht, Lucille Svoboda, and Grace Teteak, and in this romantic act, Jane fell into the arena and was blotted up by her husband. In one of the side arenas, Leonard Woytal and Lucille Ellingboe were going through the gay contortions of Tarzan and his mate. On the opposite side, high upon a platform, Esther Rettele, Dorothy Rulseh, Lorraine Sauer, Lillian Shebesta and Irene Swoboda were tripping the light fantastic, much to the glee of the audience. Their partners were Lloyd Pitsch, Clarence Rohrer, Robert Willott and Frederick Truettner.

JUNE 28th, Egypt and King Tut's tomb, with all its mystery and glamour. An expedition made up of archeologists went with us to the tomb. Their party was composed of Charlotte Zahorik, Beatrice Urbanek, Mildred Vande Grift, and Jerome Ledvina. The leader, Alvin Wilda, took charge of the native guides who were Charles Youngchild and Quirin Yindra. Once at the tomb, our hair began to rise and play tricks on us.—not that we were afraid, but then—on the door was a message of death which we think was put there by Donald Wood, the chef from Lillian Youra's hotel. This seal was broken by Leona Vandenbusch, who was the most fearless of the party.

JUNE 29th, Ah—after a thrilling vacation—still alive and kicking. We are saying goodbye Europe and Hello Uncle Sam. Bet they missed us back there. Everybody seems to be a little tired; Doris Wellhoefer is afraid of the big bad wolf, and Gladys Wehrwein is still weeping for her fiance, Robert Wensing. This holiday was not so very beneficial to Ray Wergin, because he is still searching for his lost health. The fountain of youth didn't have any effect.

JUNE 30th, Surprised to see Delores Wilhelm, and Mildred Zigmunt on board. They are going to join Louise Wernecke and Virginia Vodwaska. So long.

JULY 4th, Arrived home in New York, only to hear Marion Zeman yell, "Why didn't you stay longer?" Nuts!!!

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

When asked to add their names to the list of patrons of the 1934 Flambeau, many business men showed their kindly interest in our high school and its activities by graciously responding.

It is our hope that students and other readers of this publication will show their appreciation by patronizing these places of business. With their help it has been possible to make our yearbook a financial success.

"I wrote some lines once on a time
In wondrous merry mood."

"A word is dead when it is said some say.
I say it just begins to live that day."

"Farewell! a word that must be, and hath been
A sound which makes us linger; yet - - farewell."
